

I Fear No Tomorrows!

Yesterday's have become a thing of the past...

Precociously I laugh;

Knowing that since youth, I was built for tomorrows
My sorrows 4-ever inked in my skin.

I Fear no tomorrows says the coze of my pen, the broad of my back, no love deeper than my love so...

Broads hurry back!

Only to find out my wall has no cracks or no ceilings

I fear no tomorrows, the epitome of my feelings.

Today looks brighter, the wise lion hides my fighter

No reefs smoke, incarceration hides my lighter

Worry lines show age in my face;

Stagnation only outlines dudes that froze in their pace.

If fear was my option, I'd probably fear no tomorrows being left to give chase...

A 100 miles erased in life's race!

I fear no tomorrows, no yesterdays, or even today's gaze!

As tall as I walk, I eclipse the sun's rays.

I've traveled 14,973 days to spew my speech -

That.. society doesn't dictate how I behave...

But ignites the manner in which I am brave!

Shhh... If tomorrow hears you, it could change.

I fear no tomorrows...

Whether or not, they use Re-Imagining Justice in vain!
