

Knowledge Management to support Scaling Up Nutrition (SUN)

Dr Charulatha Banerjee
Regional Knowledge
Management Specialist (Asia)

About ENN

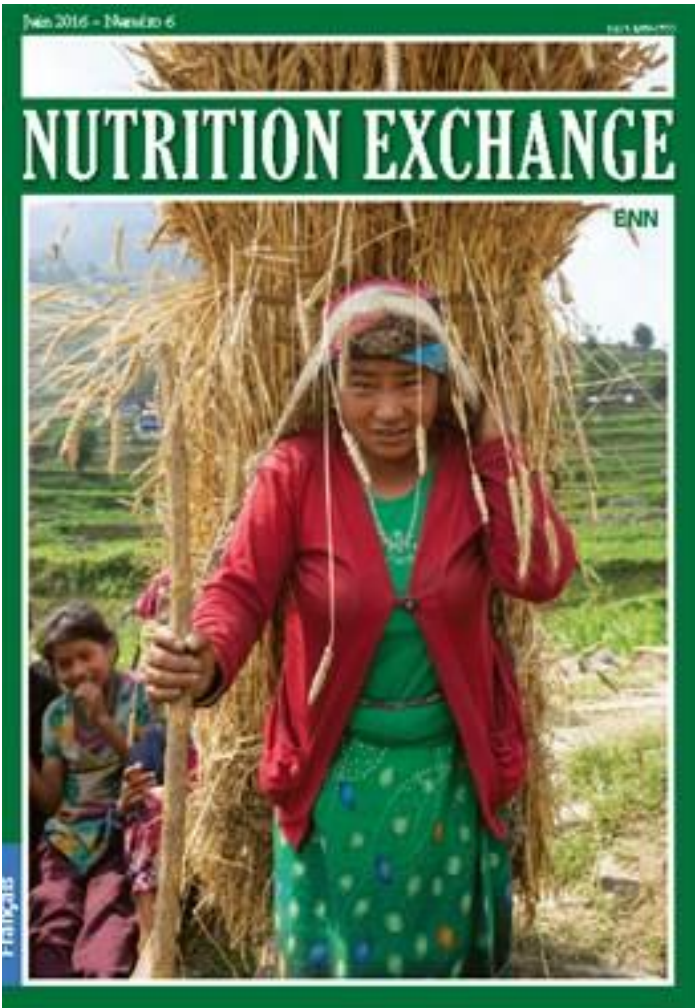

An Oxford based organization with 17 years experience
Strengthening Evidence and Know-how for Effective nutrition interventions in countries prone to crisis and high levels of malnutrition.

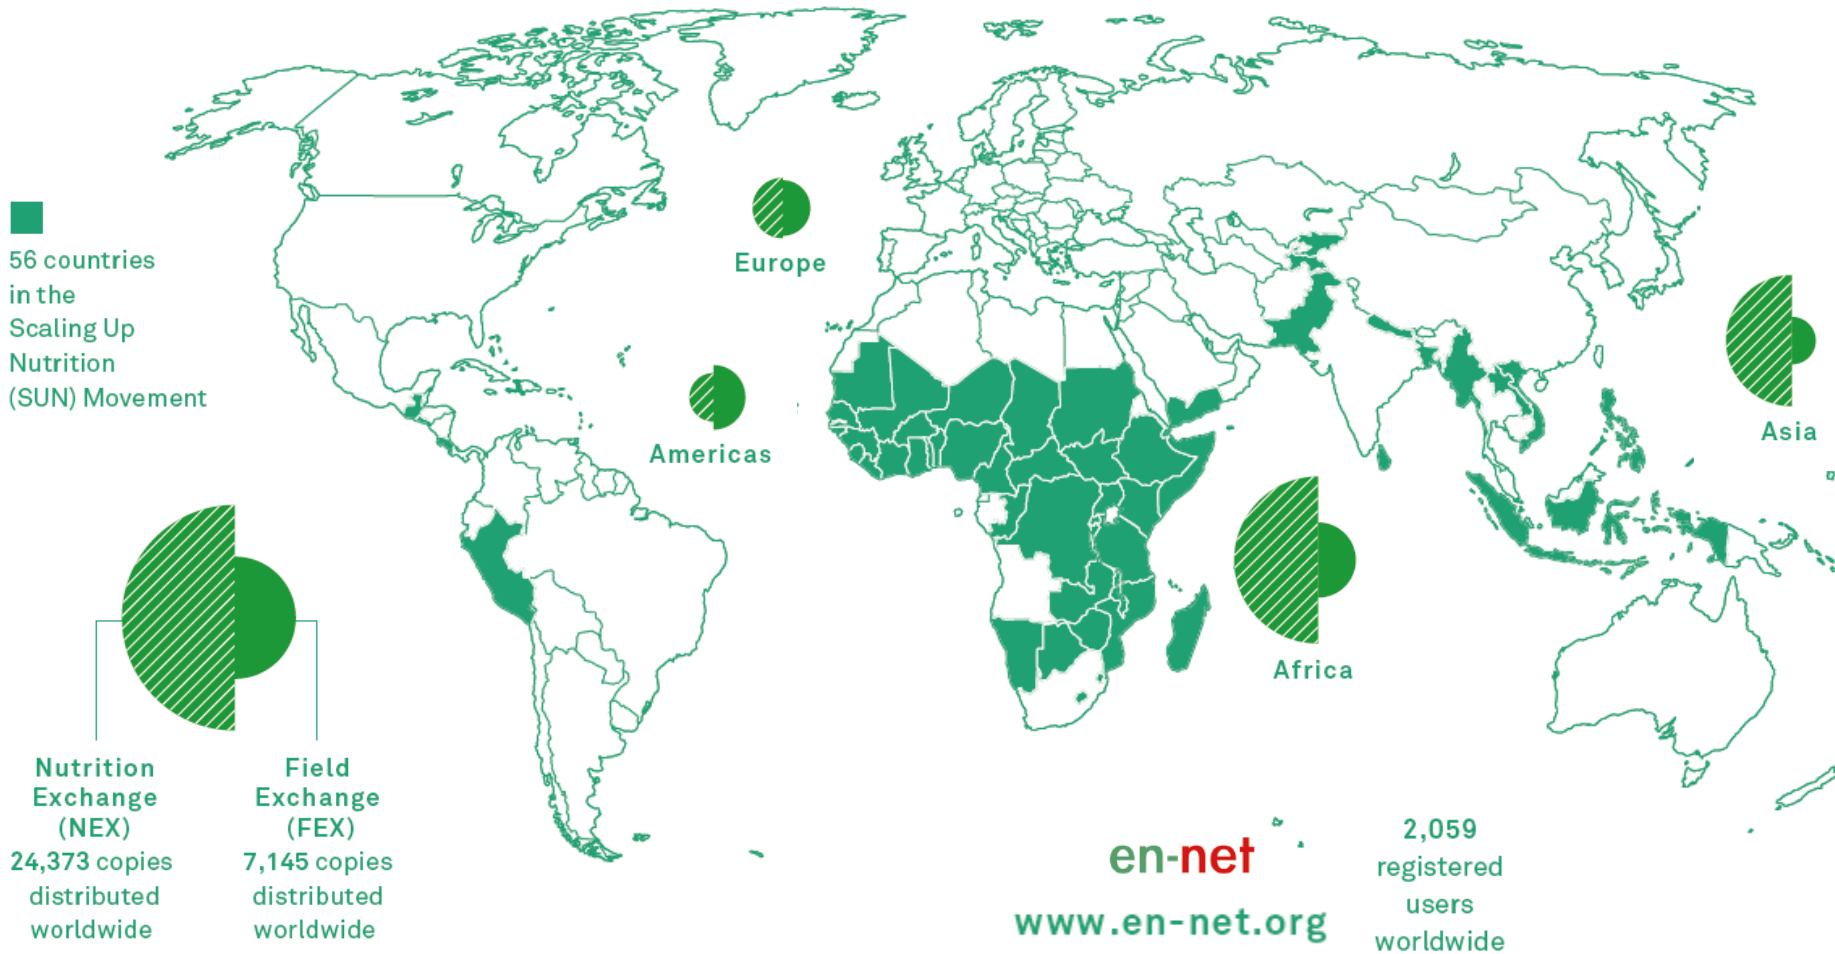

What do we do?

Knowledge management(KM)

Capturing and exchanging experiences

Global reach of FEX, NEX and en-net

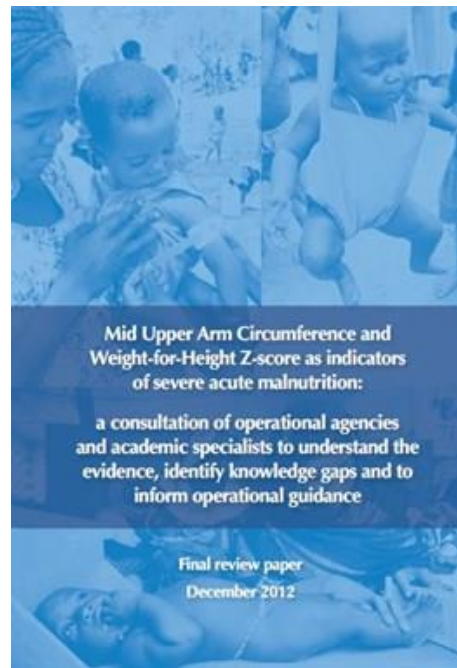

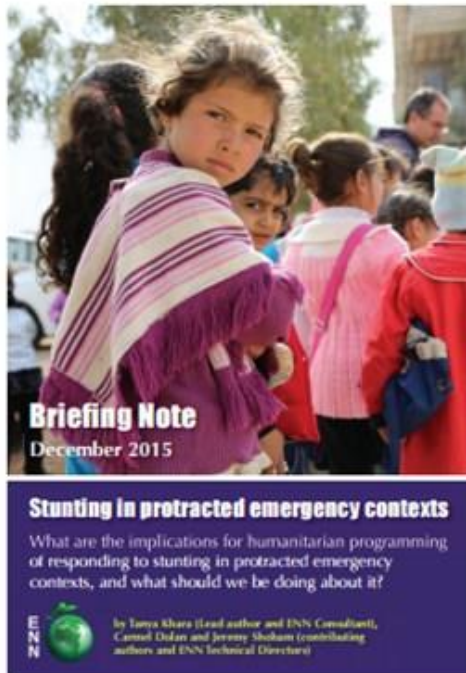

What do we do?

Undertaking research and reviews where nutrition evidence is weak

Brokering technical discussion where agreement is lacking, such as MUAC and WHZ scores as indicators of SAM.

Supporting global level leadership and stewardship in nutrition.

SUN Phase 2: 2016-2020

ENGAGE

governments, civil society,
the UN system, donors,
business and scientists

INSPIRE

each other to discover new ways of working
collectively

INVEST

in priority actions for everyone's right to good nutrition

DFID and Irish aid funded 4-year project to support knowledge management (KM) within the SUN movement

In-depth KM support to SUN countries with a focus on Fragile and Conflict Affected States (FCAS)

Support capture, dissemination and exchange of knowledge and learning about nutrition scale up using existing and new approaches, driven by needs at national and sub-national levels

Next steps

Contribute to one of ENN's publications FEX or NEX – we can support in the write up of learning and experiences of nutrition scale up for publication.

Subscribe to receive FEX and NEX editions in print or e-copy

Sign up to en-net – our online platform <http://www.en-net.org/>

The site facilitates peer-to-peer exchanges with moderation by ENN and international technical experts

Provide feedback to ENN on what KM support is needed to assist scale up and knowledge sharing in Nepal

Stay in touch with Asia Regional Knowledge Management Specialist

Thank you!