

THE TUFTS DAILY

Medford, MA 02155

Wednesday, February 14, 1990

Vol XX, Number 16

Prospective students are given a tour of the campus.

Photo by Karl Schatz

President Mayer enters hospital with pneumonia

by COLIN WOODARD
Daily Editorial Board

University President Jean Mayer was admitted to Brigham and Women's Hospital yesterday afternoon, according to Director of Communications Rosemarie Van Camp. Mayer had been suffering from the flu for some time and, on the advice of his doctor, admitted himself for treatment of pneumonia.

"He just had pneumonia and he's in the hospital and that's the best place for him to be," Van Camp said late yesterday afternoon. "I'm sure he'll be fine."

After Academic Vice President Robert Rotberg's press conference last night, Van Camp received a phone message from Mayer's wife Elizabeth which said that the President was on antibiotics and was feeling much better.

Mayer had a bad cough at Sunday night's Tufts Community Union Senate meeting, and was forced to pause several times while fielding questions. Van Camp said that he had not been feeling well at the meeting and had experienced difficulty answering questions.

US, USSR will reduce European troop forces

OTTAWA (AP) -- The United States and the Soviet Union agreed Tuesday on a sharp reduction in troop deployments in Central Europe to 195,000 for each superpower, Canadian External Affairs Minister Joseph Clark announced.

The United States could keep up to 30,000 troops elsewhere in Europe under the agreement, Clark said.

The accord worked out during an "open skies" conference represents Soviet acceptance of the initiative President Bush unveiled in his State of the Union address Jan. 31.

Clark made the announcement in a conference hall with Baker, Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze and other foreign ministers looking on. Baker and Shevardnadze did not speak.

The United States now has about 305,000 troops in Europe, of which about 275,000 are on the central front -- mostly West Germany -- and 30,000, generally in Navy and Air Force units, in Greece, Turkey, Italy, Spain and Britain.

The Soviet Union has about 565,000 in East Germany, Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia -- four nations that have shed their hardline communist governments.

Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia are negotiating troop reductions with the Soviet Union.

Announcing the settlement, Clark said, "It overcomes one of the most difficult obstacles" to a treaty NATO and the Warsaw Pact have been negotiating since the 1970s in Vienna on limits to conventional forces in Europe.

Other key limits in the projected treaty would cover tanks and other non-nuclear weapons.

However, only Monday, Secretary of State James A. Baker III stressed in a speech to the conference that the United States and the Soviet Union were in dis-

see TROOP, page 12

Superpowers agree on German reunification plan

OTTAWA (AP) -- The United States and its European allies forged agreement with the Soviet Union and East Germany Tuesday on a two-stage formula to reunite Germany 45 years after the World War II victors divided it.

The nations' foreign ministers released a terse statement on the agreement, and U.S. officials added detail.

In the first stage, East Germany and West Germany would meet on legal, economic and political issues, according to the statement. The talks would begin soon after East Germany holds its

Rotberg reiterates stance on aid

by STEPHEN NEWMAN
Daily Editorial Board

Academic Vice President Robert Rotberg at a news conference yesterday reaffirmed the Administration's concern for the financial aid situation, stressing that the Administration agrees with students that the possible shortfall is of "critical importance."

According to a written statement issued by Rotberg, "The Student Senate is right to be concerned about the pressures on our financial aid budget. The Senate and the Administration share the same goal."

However, Rotberg does not believe that the student-planned class boycott will be constructive.

Rotberg's statement defines the goal which he believes the Administration shares with the students as "maintaining and increasing student economic, cultural, and geographical diversity, maintaining the integrity of our five-year old need-blind admissions policy, and ensuring that there are sufficient Arts and Sciences funds to meet the first two goals."

Rotberg acknowledged the possibility of a $500,000 shortfall in aid in next year's budget, but said that factors on the national level indicate that there will not be a shortfall.

"If the estimated shortfall should occur, the Administration is committed to making up as much of the difference as fiscally responsible," Rotberg said. According to the statement, it is a commitment that comes on behalf of the President and Provost as well. Rotberg would not comment, however, on where the money would come from.

Rotberg echoed some of the statements made by President Mayer at Sunday night's Senate meeting, saying that the money cannot come from the Central Administration Fund or the University surplus.

Photo by Mara Riemer
Vice President Rotberg

He said that the Administration and the Trustees have already committed the surplus for buildings, the library, new furniture, and the new computer system. Rotberg added that the surplus is used for "one time expenditures." Some money has already been taken from the surplus for financial aid, he said.

Rotberg confirmed that students already at Tufts are "taken care of." He added that if there is a shortfall it will affect only the incoming class if anyone at all. "We will seek to meet the fully evaluated need of all incoming undergraduates, and those who are already here, as we have done in the recent past," the statement read.

"That's why this whole business is very full of estimates. We have to estimate how many people receiving are going to accept our offer," he said. He explained that if more people who need aid accept the offer to come to Tufts then there will be a shortfall.

Rotberg believes that the class boycott is unnecessary, and that he, the Administration and Trustees are as concerned as students are about the possible shortfall.

He believes that if the Senate wants to voice their opinion, it is their prerogative, however, he does not believe the boycott and rally will accomplish anything since both the Administration and students are on "the same side" of the issue. He said that the boycott will reach a "raised consciousness," and that there is no opposition.

"This particular issue is one that I stand completely behind the students, so does the rest of the Administration," he said.

"It's unfortunate that students who have come here for an education want to boycott what they have come here for," he said. "It doesn't seem productive in this case when we are talking about hypothetical issues."

TCU election results announced

by CONSTANTINE ATHANAS
Daily Editorial Board

Over 1,000 students voted yesterday to fill four available Tufts Community Union Senate seats and two empty TCU Judiciary positions, according to Elections Board members.

The two available junior Senate positions were filled by Bob Meagher, who received 59 percent of the 204 junior votes, and Saif Sadiqi, who received 45 percent of the vote.

Gary Gersh, the third candidate for the two junior seats, was elected to the Senate with 30 percent of the junior vote. Because no seniors campaigned for the open senior seat, the candidate with the highest percentage of votes for his or her class after all other Senate positions were filled gained the empty position.

The empty sophomore Senate seat was filled by Steve Gutterman who received 54 percent of the 370 sophomore votes cast, defeating Sol Nasisi and former senator and TCUJ member Joe Swimmer.

Marylou Brown and Laura Fish were elected to the two Judiciary positions with 40 percent and 37 percent of the vote, respectively. Michelle Trousil was not elected.

The total number of students voting was 1,061, according to the Elections Board. The turnout was within Elections Board members' expectations.

All the newly elected senators said they hoped to contribute to the Senate and pledged their support of the campus boycott of classes on Thursday.

"I support the boycott of classes and my first action as a senator will be to bring everyone down to the rally," Meagher said.

"I fully support the boycott and I personally think it's a great opportunity for the Senate to work with the student body," Gersh said, adding, "What I hope to do is find routes that unite the students with the Senate priorities."

Both of the elected Judiciary members said that their first initiative would be to help complete the new TCUJ re-recognitions process.

"My first priority is to help get the re-recognition process done as soon as possible," Brown said, adding, "We [the TCUJ] have to look at what our function is and if we can do more."

"I hope that I will be able to help the older members of the TCUJ to speed up the re-recognitions process," Fish said.

Inside

Features ..... p.5

Bill Shein tells you and you and you to go to class tomorrow. Or at least have a good reason for not going.

Arts ..... p.7

Watch out for "Notables," the brand-new Arts column that makes you take notes -- there will be a quiz, after all...

Sports ..... pp. 10-11

Men's squash sweeps the state of Maine, and women's hoop moves one step closer to the ECACs..

Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze met earlier Tuesday with his West German counterpart, Hans-Dietrich Genscher and with U.S. Secretary of State James A. Baker III.

Genscher on Tuesday affirmed that East and West Germany would reunite and sought to reassure the world that the new country would not pose any threat to peace.

"We tell all our neighbors what we want to unite: The Federal Republic of Germany, the German Democratic Republic and the whole of Berlin -- no less, and see GERMANY, page 12

THE TUFTS DAILY

Bob Goodman
Editor-in-Chief

Managing Editor: Lauren Keefe
Associate Editors: Anna George, Geoff Lepper
Editorial Page Editor: Christopher Ball
Production Managers: Beth Geller, Markus Mueller

NEWS

Editors: Stephen Newman, Colin Woodard
Assistant Editors: Constantine Athanas,
Emanuel Bardanis
Wire Editor: Ron Graber
Assistant Wire Editor: Jason Salgo

OP-ED

Editor: David Rothenstein
Assistant Editor: Eric Hirsch

FEATURES

Editors: Jena Gerstel, Jamie Bronstein
Assistant Editor: Dan Ferat

ARTS

Editors: Jill Grinberg, Laurie Jakobsen
Assistant Editor: Jason George

SPORTS

Editors: Mike Friedman, David Saltzman,
Kelley Alessi

Assistant Editor: Geoff Edgers

PHOTOGRAPHY

Editor: Karl Schatz
Assistant Editors: Jonathan Grauer,
Nathalie Desbiez, Julio Mota, Mara Riemer
Special Assignments Editor: Denise Drower

PRODUCTION

Layout Editors: Janine Billy, Michelle Frayman
Graphics Editor: Rich Auerbach
Classifieds Editors: Laura Walker, Michele Pennell
Copy Editor: Julie Primost

Javier Macaya

Executive Business Director

Business Manager: Larry Azer
Office Manager: Heather Paddock
Receivables Manager: Sandra Giordano

The Tufts Daily is a non-profit newspaper, published Monday through Friday during the academic year and distributed free to the Tufts community. The Daily is entirely student-run, and there are no paid editorial positions. The Daily is printed at Charles River Publishing, Charlestown, MA.

The Daily is located at the back entrance of Miller Hall at Tufts University. Our phone number is (617) 381-3090. Business hours are 9:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m., Monday through Friday and 1:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m. on Sunday. Subscriptions are $25 for a full year. Our mailing address is: The Tufts Daily, Back Entrance, Miller Hall, Tufts University, Medford MA 02155.

The policies of The Tufts Daily are established by a majority of the editorial board. Editorials are established by a rotating editorial board designated to represent a majority of editors. Editorials appear on this page, unsigned. Individual editors are not necessarily responsible for, or in agreement with, the policies and editorials of The Tufts Daily. The content of letters, advertisements, signed columns, cartoons and graphics does not necessarily reflect the opinion of The Tufts Daily editorial board.

Letters to the Editor Policy

The Tufts Daily welcomes letters from the readers. The letters page is an open forum for campus issues and comments about the Daily's coverage.

Letters must include the writer's name and a phone number where the writer can be reached. All letters must be verified with the writer before they can be published.

The deadline for letters to be considered for publication in the following day's issue is 4:00 p.m.

Due to space limitations, letters should be no longer than 350 words. Letters should be accompanied by no more than eight signatures.

The editors reserve the right to edit letters for clarity. Publication of letters is subject to the discretion of the editors.

Letters should be typed or printed from an IBM or IBM-compatible computer in letter-quality or near-letter-quality mode. Letters written on Macintosh computers should be brought in on disk — files should be saved in "text-only with line breaks" format, and disks should be brought in with a copy of the letter. Disks can be picked up in The Daily business office the following day.

Letters should address the editor and not a particular individual. While letters can be critical of an individual's actions, they should not attack someone's personality traits.

The Daily will not accept anonymous letters or pen names except in extreme circumstances if the Executive Board determines that there is a clear and present danger to the author. The Daily will not accept letters regarding the coverage of other publications, unless their coverage itself has become a newsworthy issue that has appeared in The Daily.

Letters to the Editor

Arguments against Thursday's class boycott

To the Editor:

Although I have always believed that Tufts is not serious enough in its commitment to financial aid and am more appalled than ever at the recent predictions for the 1991 budget, I don't consider a boycott of all classes a serious-minded effort that will adequately represent our community's concerns. While the rally serves as a wonderful example of student unity and solidarity, we can all be certain that not all students who choose to "boycott" classes will be in front of Ballou at noon on Thursday. For some, the boycott represents an even longer long weekend; for others it is a substantial setback on that one missed lecture, enough to complicate future lectures and assignments. And while my professors don't seem irritated by our method of protest, some are nevertheless teaching and, moreover, want to be teaching on that day.

The boycott by current students is supposed to be symbolic of the students that won't be able to receive the benefits of a Tufts education without the help of financial aid. Fine. Yet we stood by and watched the construction of AfterHours. We walk by Jumbo Scoops almost every day. We live on a campus where too much is not enough, and not until now do we decide it's time for real action. Granted, $500,000 to one million dollars is the final blow, and I'm happy to see recognition of this among the students. But this issue -- the responsible allocation of funds -- has been a pressing one for years. One day of missed classes is exactly that -- missed classes.

In our desire to be taken seriously by those people handling the budget, we must act intelligently. Had President Mayer's office been inundated with student, faculty, staff and even parent letters, memos and faxes; had we encouraged one another to make phone calls; had we driven everyone mad with article after article on this subject; had we asked questions like "Where does all our money really go?" sooner, maybe then we wouldn't be in this situation.

A boycott of this sort doesn't really put the heat on the Administration to change University policy. Remember that a university is not only a center of learning but also a corporation: It spends money in order to make more money. We are students and clients, and when a customer is dissatisfied, the customer doesn't boycott a service or product for just one day.

Yet while I do believe that this boycott is a partial sell-out, I also feel compelled to participate on my own terms. By this, I mean that I plan to attend the rally at noon on Thursday, yet I will also be present at my classes that do not conflict with our protest. Many, no doubt, find this weak-spirited and lacking in conviction. For me, however, it is merely a more rational and sincere avenue to take.

Micaela Porta J'90

Set up a student fund

To the Editor:

To this disgruntled alumna, the TCU

Senate's suggestion of an all-campus lecture boycott as a response to a projected shortfall in financial aid monies represents all that is ineffective and irresponsible in student government. Once again, students complain but are essentially unwilling to involve themselves personally in solving the problem which so upsets them.

This lecture boycott will not bring one dime to the pockets of a needy high-school senior trying to finance a Tufts tuition. Rather, the boycott will allow those students somehow over that obstacle a chance to let off steam. How can the money shortage and fund allocations be effectively protested? Calling together Tufts' 4,500 undergraduates is an excellent idea, but not on the quad or on platforms and microphones. TCU senators would better lead their constituents by asking for a donation to a fund replacing the lost aid and negotiating with the Administration to match the contributions dollar-for-dollar. If matched by the Administration, an average donation of $10 (roughly equivalent to a Domino's pizza, a movie ticket and a popcorn or half of a haircut at Dieso's) would yield $90,000, already almost one fifth of the lost funds.

Those students unable to give money could donate their time to administer the collection or assist in negotiations. Finally, as all telefund callers know, most corporations will match or double-match the charitable donations of employees; thus, involving parents in the process might yield another $90,000. An annual event of this sort could raise lots of money and would remind us students that we must each choose to effect change personally or not at all.

Pulling students out of lecture halls to show solidarity with those denied the opportunity is also irresponsible. The value of an education for the less privileged is best emphasized when the more privileged boycotted on Thursday, it is cutting classes.

Though I am currently working to finance my continuing education in medicine, I've had it easy. So I'll send the first check for the purpose of replacing the funds to the TCU office in the Campus Center. If the fund doesn't come off, the Senate can have some pizza on me. Then at least their mouths will be filled with something nutritive.

Diana Mallory J'88

Rally, but don't boycott

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my concern with the Administration's possible financial aid shortfall. Let me begin by making my stance on this issue quite clear. I wholeheartedly agree with all students who feel that these financial losses cannot be tolerated. We must join together to fight any action which may prevent students from attending Tufts due to monetary conflicts. However, the course of action taken by the TCU Senate was equally unacceptable. Thus, I am ask that students join me in boycotting an ill-advised walk-out this Thursday.

A boycott is a term which traditionally pertains to a sacrifice that demonstrates one's sincere dedication to a cause. Missing classes (a common occurrence at Tufts, I hear) is not a sacrifice, no matter what anyone may think. This action affects the students and the faculty while neatly avoiding the true targets in this situation -- the administrators. I, for one, would be more impressed if Billy Jacobson had called for a hunger strike.

Did you realize that only 20 people showed up to the allegedly packed Senate meeting this past Sunday? This was the same meeting where the notorious boycott "resolution" was unanimously accepted. Should we allow factions to dictate policy for the majority of students on this campus? Put simply, students shouldn't feel pressured to join this rebellion which was initiated by a small group of people. In addition, I believe that the Senate is attempting to flex its muscles by calling for this walkout. The Senate seems to be publicizing itself rather than resolving any problems.

My largest problem with the boycott is that it benefits absolutely no one. The rally is a fine idea; I plan to attend myself. However, there are certainly other alternatives that could have been explored by a responsible body of leaders. I suspect that if all students who were truly concerned with this cause would compose a brief letter and send it to an administrator, they would accomplish more than by sleeping late on Thursday. Also, I should hope that the Senate would plan to meet directly with the Trustees to maturely discuss a remedy to this conflict. I hope I haven't offended any one by this letter. Let me conclude by reiterating that I am passionately against any change in the present financial aid system. However, if we are truly to solve this issue, let us turn to more effective means.

Jon Greenwood A'93

Protest at the State House

To the Editor:

In response to Massachusetts' budget shortcomings, financial aid to many universities, including Tufts, could be drastically cut. Because of the unrelated possibility of an aid shortfall at Tufts, the TCU Senate has called for a boycott of classes and a protest in front of Ballou on Thursday.

While I am not criticizing the basic goal of the protest, I do feel it is being incorrectly targeted towards the Board of Trustees. Why isn't the protest being held at the State House, where financial aid cuts were already ordered? The Trustees of this college are also the victims of the state's cuts.

The only way the Trustees can change the financial aid situation is to either raise tuition or reassess future development projects, including the expansion of the library and gymnasium. I would not like to see either of these changes occur. Curtail- see LETTERS, page 3

-Jamie Bronstein

Editor's View

Boycott is outside Tufts' tradition of protests

Editor's View is a forum for Daily editors to express personal opinions on campus issues. The opinions expressed here do not necessarily reflect the view of the rest of the Daily editorial staff.

Tufts University has a long tradition of positive and fruitful protest. I have witnessed many examples, in my four years here, of students joining together to express their opinions regarding professor tenure, divestment and race relations, to name a few issues.

These demonstrations of solidarity have included sit-ins at Ballou Hall and unity rallies on the quad, candlelight vigils and singing choruses of "We Shall Overcome." Many demonstrations have resulted in reconsideration of various policies by the Administration and the achievement of the demonstrators' goals.

A class boycott is something I don't ever remember having seen occur here at Tufts. Students engaged in sit-ins or planning to attend rallies have selectively chosen to miss certain classes, but never in my recollection has a class boycott been advanced as a method whereby anything would be achieved -- and with good reason; the only people it effects detrimentally are the students.

How ironic that we are protesting the Administration's changing commitment to financial aid by showing our collective lack of commitment to education. We, our parents, or the banks from which we borrow our student loans, have already paid for Thursday's classes. The Administration will not suffer in any way from our absences, but rather is supplied by this action with proof that Tufts students are not committed to education. Our professors, who get paid whether or not we show up, will probably not mind.

Why are we being asked not to attend classes? It is not as if there were some all-day rally to attend; the rally doesn't even begin until noon. We are asked to stay away from all our classes and go do nothing. Some people will skip classes and then stay away from the rally, seizing the day as the beginning of a five-day Presidents' Weekend vacation.

Financial aid is too important an issue to belittle it by calling a class boycott and then failing to organize any all-day positive protest in which students can engage. If a one-hour rally (which I agree is necessary) is a sufficient expression of student opinion on the issue, a one-hour class boycott is also sufficient. Students have as much as a responsibility to attend their classes as professors due to teach them; if students are not protesting, they should not be able to consider Thursday a vacation day.

News Briefs

From the Associated Press

Reagan asks for closed deposition

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Ronald Reagan's lawyers asked a judge Tuesday to bar reporters and the public from the courtroom when the former president gives videotaped testimony Friday in the Iran-Contra case of his former national security adviser, John Poindexter.

Iran-Contra prosecutors and the Justice Department joined Reagan's lawyers in saying that news organizations have no constitutional right to attend the pre-trial deposition.

"Even if there were a constitutional interest in the press' attendance at the deposition ... that interest is outweighed by the significant risk of disclosure of confidential information," Reagan's lawyers said in a filing in US District Court.

The Justice Department said in a court brief that a closed deposition was the only way to prevent inadvertent disclosure of sensitive information.

"There is no other means to prevent the disclosure of national security matters unless they are edited out before the videotaped deposition is made public," the department said.

Reagan's lawyers urged that the videotape and any transcripts of it be sealed until the videotape is played back to the jury at Poindexter's trial.

Iran-Contra prosecutors, however, said the court should consider the news organizations' alternate request for access to the edited videotape and censored transcripts of the deposition after it is completed.

The prosecutors said the protection of sensitive national security information is a compelling governmental interest "sufficient to justify precluding the media from attending this proceeding."

Twelve news organizations have asked US District Court Judge Harold Greene, who is presiding in the Poindexter case, for admission to Reagan's deposition at the federal courthouse in Los Angeles.

If necessary, the news organizations said, Greene could order closing of the deposition during lines of questioning that may elicit sensitive information.

Soviet official predicts that some members of the Warsaw Pact may leave alliance

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) -- An adviser to Mikhail S. Gorbachev acknowledged on Tuesday that some East European nations may eventually may leave the Warsaw Pact, the Soviet military alliance. Marshal Sergei Akhromeyev, former Soviet chief of staff, was asked in an interview whether he thought one or two of the seven Warsaw Pact members might withdraw, and replied: "Probably." He would not say which ones.

Hungary and Czechoslovakia are negotiating for removal of Soviet military forces from their territory. Akhromeyev said the Kremlin was willing to discuss troop withdrawals with Poland, but had not received a formal request. Speaking through an interpreter, Akhromeyev said he thought most nations "will continue to stick to their organizations, united by some common nature of interests, so I believe the Warsaw Pact will continue to exist."

"If one or two states would pull out of the Warsaw Treaty, part of the military contingents will withdraw from the combined armed forces," Akhromeyev said. "This is going to be for those states to decide." Akhromeyev is on the defense committee of the Soviet legislature and is in Brussels for meetings sponsored by the North Atlantic Assembly, which consists of legislators from the 16 nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Yale Law dean to join student protest

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) -- The dean of Yale Law School said Tuesday he will join students in a peaceful protest against the appearance on campus of a Nation of Islam leader who has a history of making anti-Semitic remarks.

Despite his opposition to the appearance by Dr. Abdul Alim Muhammad, Dean Guido Calabresi said the Nation of Islam spokesman had a right to speak and that he would not tolerate any attempt to deprive him of that right.

The law school, however, said it would not permit Muhammad's security personnel to carry firearms or frisk people who come to hear him speak Wednesday night at the school's auditorium. Instead, a metal detector operated by law school staff will be set up to meet the Nation of Islam's security concerns, said Catherine Iino, a law school spokeswoman.

Muhammad was invited by a student group, Law and Liberation, which organized a three-day symposium on community-based efforts to battle drug abuse in the black community. The group said Muhammad has won wide praise for his efforts to combat the drug problem in the nation's capital.

Exxon Valdez mate says he warned skipper

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) -- Seconds before the Exxon Valdez went aground, the third mate in control of the tanker testified Tuesday that he called skipper Joseph Hazelwood to tell him the tanker was "getting into serious trouble."

The message was interrupted by a crash, Gregory Cousins testified at Hazelwood's trial.

Cousins and a helmsman, Robert Kagan, were at the wheel when the 987-foot tanker ran aground on Bligh Reef, spilling more than 10 million gallons of North Slope crude in the nation's worst oil spill.

see BRIEFS, page 13

Leftist guerrillas kidnap two Americans to protest Bush visit

CARTAGENA, Colombia (AP) -- Leftist guerrillas kidnapped two Americans Tuesday to protest President Bush's visit for a drug summit and said they would put their captives on trial, police said. One was later released.

Also Tuesday, anti-Bush demonstrators took to the streets in Cartagena, where about 1,000 leftist union members marched, and in the capital Bogota, where police fired tear gas at rock-throwing students as about 100 marched downtown. No injuries were reported.

The Americans, abducted in the drug capital of Medellin, were identified as David Kent, a 40-year-old teacher from Indianapolis, and James Archer Donnelly, a 65-year-old businessman from Detroit who was kidnapped with his Colombian wife, police said.

Donnelly and his wife were released unhurt at 10:30 a.m., said Lt. Eusabio Guerrero, a police spokesman from Medellin. They were released about three hours after their kidnapping, said an official at the school where Kent teaches.

The official at the government-funded Colombo American Institute, speaking on condition of anonymity, said Donnelly was told by his captors that they were leftist guerrillas and had taken the action to protest Bush's visit Thursday for a four-nation drug summit.

The kidnappings were certain to fuel concerns, already high, over Bush's security during the summit. Two US ships are patrolling off the Colombian coast: the USS Nassau, an 820-foot amphibious assault ship that carries helicopters and an 1,700-man Marine landing team, and the USS Sampson, a 437-foot destroyer, according to the Pentagon.

In Washington, the State Department confirmed the kidnappings but said Donnelly was kidnapped Monday night. It had no immediate confirmation on his reported release.

The Colombian radio network Caracol said its Medellin station received a telephone call from an anonymous man, claiming to be a spokesman for leftist guerrillas, who claimed responsibility for the abductions.

The caller said the men would be put on trial and would be released in five days, Caracol said. He did not explain why there would be a trial or why the men would be released.

Police said Kent he has lived in Medellin for several years.

Donnelly runs a company called Exco that manufactures hydraulic equipment, the police spokesman said on condition of anonymity. He said he had no further details on the men.

The spokesman said the kidnapers were from the National Liberation Army, a leftist guerrilla group, known by its initials in Spanish as the ELN.

There was no way to confirm if the kidnapers really are leftist guerrillas. Drug traffickers have been found in the past posing as leftist insurgents.

Colombian police, who have fought nearly a six-month war with drug traffickers, said Monday night they had seized more than three tons of dynamite and almost $5 million in raids on traffickers' hideouts.

The dynamite was seized near Medellin in raids on two trafficking hideouts, the director of Colombia's national police, Gen. Miguel Gomez, told the news conference.

Since the government declared war on traffickers Aug. 18, the drug lords have committed 262 terrorist acts, mostly bombings, that have killed 209 people.

The bombings include the downing of a Colombian airliner in which 107 people were killed.

In the past month, the traffickers have claimed in communi-ques that they want a truce with the government and are willing to dismantle their drug business if the government will stop extraditing them to the United States.

Fourteen suspected traffickers have been extradited to the United States in the last five months.

U.S. Ambassador to Colombia Thomas McNamara, speaking at a news conference Tuesday in Cartagena, would not comment on possible negotiations with the traffickers. He said such talks, proposed by the traffickers, are an internal matter for the Colombian government.

President Virgilio Barco has said repeatedly he will never negotiate with the drug lords.

During his news conference, McNamara bristled at repeated questions over Bush's security.

Speaking of the Colombian government, he said, "I think what they resent is the fact ... that they seem not to be able to get you to come off the security aspect and to address the real substance of the summit."

But U.S. officials have decided there is so much danger that Bush must fly into Barranquilla, 85 miles away, then helicopter into a heavily guarded navy base and spend only six hours in Cartagena.

There has been little violence by traffickers in Cartagena, but it has been enough not only to alarm Bush's aides but to turn away thousands of American tourists who usually come each winter.

A bomb exploded Oct. 26, killing two tourists in their hotel room.

Eight years ago, two men posing as hotel workers forced two U.S. drug agents out of the Cartagena Hilton at gunpoint, took them into the countryside, shot them and left them for dead. The agents survived.

Letters to the Editor

continued from page 2

ing future developments will hurt Tufts' ability to maintain its reputation as a top school, and a tuition increase will force a portion of Tufts' population to seek a less costly education elsewhere. Tuition increases have essentially the same effect as financial aid shortfalls, except that different groups of students are affected. In either situation, Tufts loses a segment of its diverse population, because someone will not be able to afford the higher cost of education.

Tuition increases and financial aid shortages are the two most significant ways of un-diversifying Tufts University. Recent tuition increases have far exceeded the rate of inflation, causing many potential students not to come to Tufts. If this trend continues, more and more people will turn to public universities to seek an education. In order to stay competitive, in order to keep tuition levels stable, and to provide adequate financial aid, both the federal and state governments must provide money to public and private colleges.

While the TCU Senate realizes the need for maintaining financial aid, it seems as if they aren't looking to the right place for money. Money must come from outside of the University, not from within it. Tuition increases and financial aid shortages must both be capped by the government in order to provide higher education for all those that demand it.

Andrew Reback E'92

Innaccurate quotation

To the Editor:

The front page article on Feb. 13 which quotes me has at least one serious error (news story, "Mayer talks to Senate about financial aid") I did not say that the Olin Language Center is going to run a million dollars over budget.

I said that, as we have known all along, the Olin grant does not pay for certain expenditures related to the Olin building, such as utilities situated outside of the building, relocation of other utilities, etc. And there is a difference of close to one million dollars, actually 1.2 million dollars, between the project cost and the grant. The situation is made more difficult by the fact that the Olin Foundation does not want us to fundraise for the building, so that we have to absorb the difference between the grant, which, incidentally, they have increased, and the total project cost.

Jean Mayer
President,
Tufts University

Sig Ep apologizes

To the Editor:

The Brotherhood of Sigma Psi Epsilon wishes to publicly apologize to Rikki McGinty and her companion for any inconvenience we caused them in Hodgdon Dining Hall ("Members of fraternity ruined student's dinner"). We truly feel that it is unfortunate that she was offended.

We must point out, however, that to take this incident and label the entire Greek system as "sexist" is wrong, as it is wrong to use an isolated example of a few individuals' behavior to debase fraternities at Tufts. Certainly, McGinty's letter was justified in complaining about a personal offense, but the generalizations that she used were unfair and biased.

Kent Logan A'90
On behalf of the Brotherhood of
Sigma Psi Epsilon

Everybody's Doin' It!

NATIONAL CONDOM WEEK

FREE CONDOMS & SAFER SEX INFORMATION

STOP BY OUR TABLE IN THE CAMPUS CENTER

Condoms provided
by CUSTOM CONDOMS

|           |    |   |   |
|-----------|----|---|---|
| WEDNESDAY | 10 | - | 3 |
| THURSDAY  | 10 | - | 3 |
| FRIDAY    | 10 | - | 3 |

BUTTONS!

BALOONS!

T-SHIRTS!

FEBRUARY 14, 15 & 16

TUFTS HEALTH EDUCATION PROGRAM
HEALTH & WELLNESS 26 WINTHROP STREET 391-0720

FEATURES

Science Museum holds annual inventors conference

Mechanical Engineering Professor Ioannis Miaoulis presents award-winning diesel battery

by DAN FERAT
Daily Editorial Board

Ever dream of creating a machine to help humanity? Last weekend, 103 students, ranging in ages from six to 14, and 30 adults presented all sorts of creations of their imaginations at the twelfth annual inventors convention, which was held at the Boston Museum of Science.

One featured inventor, and winner of the Inventors Association of New England's annual award for presentation, was Tufts' own professor of mechanical engineering, Ioannis Miaoulis with his invention: The Tufts Rechargeable Thermal Battery. Miaoulis, who graduated from Tufts in 1983, and a former graduate student of his, Maureen Selvidge, developed the battery in Tufts labs in 1987. They completed the battery this past year, and Tufts is now applying for a patent on it. The battery is used for truck diesel engines in cold weather.

The concept behind the battery is simple. A metal tube of Lithium bromide, a common salt, is attached to a tank of methanol. When drivers go to start the engine in cold weather, they just push a button to release an amount of methanol into the salt compartment. This causes the salt's ions to split, releasing great amounts of heat. The metal of the tube absorbs the heat, increasing the temperature of the engine's air intake by seventy degrees Fahrenheit. This increase in temperature will allow the engine to start immediately in any weather. Then the heat from the exhaust is routed through the salt tube, reheating the tube and causing the methanol to evaporate back into the holding tank. Thus the system is completely recyclable.

Truck drivers usually leave their engines running throughout the night during cold weather, wasting fuel and polluting the air even more than is normal for a diesel engine. With the invention, the driver can turn the engine off at night and be able to restart it immediately in the morning. Also the battery helps protect the environment from excessive diesel exhaust.

Dr. George Hatsopoulos

Miaoulis said that the original idea was to use water, but this did not work because water freezes in cold weather. Next Miaoulis tried using anti-freeze. "It worked in creating the heat, but when we heated the mixture, all we got was a mud," he said. Then one day he walked into his lab and noticed that someone had left a bottle of methanol near his Lithium bromide. He tried mixing the two and it worked. "It solved the freezing problem, too, because the alcohol doesn't freeze," he said.

The project is far from finished. Miaoulis is trying to get funding from a company to continue his work fitting the battery to a real diesel engine. The concept works as well as a model, but it hasn't been tested on an actual engine yet. Miaoulis estimates that it will take another two years to complete.

The exhibit included an exhibit by the man named the inventor of the year, Dr. George N. Hatsopoulos.

Hatsopoulos is the founder and president of the Thermo Electron Corporation, a company that manufactures various instruments for use in heart transplants, bomb detection, and drug detection. He studied at the National Technical University of Athens and received his Bachelor's, Master's, Engineer's and Doctorate in mechanical engineering from MIT. Hatsopoulos was honored for his discovery of thermionic conversion, a process which transforms electron energy into heat energy which can then be used as power for machines.

This kind of energy powers many of Thermo Electron Corporation's products such as the Left Ventricular Assist Device. Hatsopoulos first invented the original LVAD in 1956 and it has since been updated to its newest form, the Sealed Electronic LVAD, which was created this year. The LVAD, known commercially as the HeartMate, helps heart pumping and is implanted in patients awaiting heart transplants. One person lived on a HeartMate for eight and a half months before a donor heart was found.

Some of the students' creative ideas included Vel-String, velcro-covered shoelaces with a stick-on bow invented by ten-year-old Stacy Dacheux; The Telephone Helper, a shoulder pad with a strip of velcro that is attached to the telephone to so it doesn't fall off your shoulder, created by Mary Andalaro, age eleven years; and The Magnetic Keyholder Buckle, a belt buckle that has a magnet inside to hold keys, invented by in four hour shifts over the three days of the weekend.

Susan Turner, the director of the Academically Talented program in Franklin, Mass., had come to this event last year and thought that it would be a great idea to get her students involved.

"My kids make these kind of things all the time and so I thought it would be great to have the opportunity to have a bigger audience... than just their friends," Turner said, referring to her fourth and fifth grade classes. All the students who entered from the Franklin schools were accepted.

There were also thirty adult inventors at the Museum of Science this weekend. One man, Frank E. Bateman, president of In-Sol, Inc., presented his invention "In-Sol Drape." This unique curtain is made from aluminum-covered mylar glued to a knit backing. The material was placed on a white backing material and then covered with the decorative outer layer of drapery, leaving a small airspace in between. The invention is used to insulate large windows from excessive heat gain or loss. The concept comes from the method of insulation for rocket fuel tanks, in which reflective metal and insulated linings with airspaces between them line the tanks, keeping the excessive heat away from the extremely cold liquid oxygen. The curtains have been tested in a lab and have been found to stop 46 percent of heat gain or loss, depending on whether the drapes are closed or open.

Daily file photo

Ioannis Miaoulis

Jacqueline Bishop, a fourteen-year-old "latch-key kid." The students exhibited their inventions

Dumb boycotts at Tufts

Today is Valentine's Day. And on any other Valentine's Day, I'd be writing about this joyous celebration of love and of things red, perhaps even joking about candy, roses, and tasty licorice lingerie.

But this year, I'm boycotting Valentine's Day. Why? No particular reason. In fact, I didn't even think about it very much. But a boycott is known to be a form of protest, and one that often gives student governments something to do with themselves for at least a few days.

Bill Shein

The Lighter Side

Ironically, as soon as I had announced my boycott, the TCU Senate decided to have their own. Perhaps you've seen one of the 10,658,987 posters: The Senate has called for a boycott of classes tomorrow to protest the projected shortfall in financial aid. By not attending our classes, the organizers reason, we will be sending a strong message to the Trustees that we insist on maintaining an adequate level of financial aid -- and, of course, that we are willing to spend an entire day leisurely tossing a frisbee or visiting Boston to demonstrate our unwavering resolve. Trustees take note! Students will sleep all day long to fight these cuts! That's right, Joe Trustee. We're not going to class today so that you'll restore the money that we need to enroll at Tufts and go to class. Get it?

Yes, it seems that once again Tufts students are mindlessly endorsing a protest simply because it's a protest. "A boycott? I don't need to think about it. It must be an appropriate protest; why else would the Senate plan it?" Sort of like what happens in the dining halls: "A petition? I don't need to read it first! Of course I'll sign! It's a petition!"

Rumors spreading like wildfire around campus this week have included speculation about other inane protests that were considered for tomorrow but which were narrowly defeated in favor of the "What The Hell Boycott." Topping the list were "Get Drunk Before Lunch Day," "Shave Only the Left Side of Your Face Day," and "Boycott the Bathrooms Day."

Please don't assume that I'm not concerned about financial aid. I wouldn't be here without it. I'd be happier with more of it. And I wouldn't mind receiving some financial aid from Tufts even after I've graduated. But why a boycott?

A day-long boycott means several things. First, that everybody now has a good reason to skip their most hated class, claiming "principle." Second, that most everyone who is "showing solidarity" with people who can't afford to come to Tufts will be spending much of the day in Harvard Square, reading comic books, watching piles of snow melt, and otherwise doing nothing that has anything to do with protecting financial aid. Is that really "solidarity"?

Finally, smart Jumbos will use the boycott to extend the weekend into a 5-day vacation, using their Northwest Airlines $99 vouchers to fly to Miami for an early Spring Break.

If we want to be taken seriously, let's at least stage a protest that is a credible one. Declaring a one-day holiday from classes, without providing a full day of protests, fund raisers, etc., is nothing more than an empty symbol. We all want to have enough financial aid to maintain the meager level of "diversity" at Tufts, or even enough to further diversify the student body. But to make a strong statement, we must show that we are willing to give up something, to suffer, to bite the bullet to show our seriousness. Let's face it: missing classes is hardly painful. Attending them quite often is.

You should know that the term "boycott" comes from an English landlord, Charles C. Boycott, who was ostracized for refusing to lower the rents of his tenants in Ireland. Logically, then, the protest over financial aid should be called a "Rotberg."

I am not going to participate in tomorrow's boycott. But I am planning my own "Rotberg" to urge Tufts to guarantee enough funds for financial aid. People like me, who have worked diligently to establish a less-than-impressive attendance record, will vow to actually ATTEND all of their classes, and even promise to do the reading BEFORE the lecture! Now that's a show of support!

The 14 Tufts students known to religiously attend every single class can join the Senate's boycott, and spend the entire day seated cross-legged on the quad, meditating with the mantra "aid... ummm... aid..."

Together, then, we will have the "Boycott Rotberg" movement, a protest that allows every student to participate in a meaningful way. And the two groups can join forces for the noontime rally outside Ballou, the one event planned for tomorrow that actually makes good sense.

Of course, the combined name of our protest, "Boycott Rotberg," may inspire related and possibly more enthusiastic protests. We can only hope that it will also result in the rapid spread of "Robert Hood" T-shirts, depicting our vice president lifting sacks of money from the pockets of struggling students and dropping them into a treasure chest labelled "Expensive Buildings Fund."

In a constructive effort to remedy the financial aid situation, I have compiled a list of ways for Tufts to raise the $1 million that may be needed to meet financial aid needs. I hope the Administration will seriously consider and then implement some of my ideas, or at least not put me on probation for printing them.

"Bill's 10 Proven Ways to Make $1 Million"

1. Ask Harvard for it.
2. Steal it from AfterHours.
3. Don't pay Buildings and Grounds workers for time spent sleeping or watching television.
4. Get the entire student body to spend one day begging in the subway.
5. Cut Rotberg's salary in half.
6. Sell the Mayers' house and the Gittlemans' house, preferably to KLM Airlines for flight attendant training.
7. Charge Sigma Phi Epsilon $100 each time a brother pushes someone off a chair during Hodgdon Pasta Night.
8. Convince the Tufts Police to steal computers from other colleges too.
9. Have Tufts move into Division I and then win the NCAA basketball tournament.
10. Arrange for me to fight Mike Tyson for $1 million (plus medical bills for my reconstructive surgery).

So tomorrow, if you must boycott, then boycott. If you want to rally, please rally. If you'd like to Rotberg, then Rotberg. And if you feel like you must Boycott Rotberg, I'm sure you will have no trouble finding people to join you.

Drexel Inc. parent to file for bankruptcy

NEW YORK (AP) -- Drexel Burnham Lambert Inc. said Tuesday its parent company was filing for federal bankruptcy court protection, signaling the demise of the Wall Street firm that came to symbolize quick riches and scandal in the 1980s.

Drexel's board of directors authorized the parent, Drexel Burnham Lambert Group Inc., to seek protection from creditors under Chapter 11 of the federal bankruptcy code.

The step climaxed one of the most tumultuous periods in Wall Street history for the cocksure investment house, which pioneered the use of risky, high-interest "junk bonds" to finance billions of dollars worth of corporate takeovers under now-indicted executive Michael Milken.

It also could have broad effects far from Wall Street, on companies that have invested in Drexel's junk bonds, pension funds that hold the securities and businesses attempting to pay off junk debt.

Drexel was crippled by the government's insider trading investigation, in which it pleaded guilty to six felonies and paid $650 million to settle fraud charges. Milken's subsequent departure amid criminal allegations against him and the collapse of the junk-bond market which Drexel still dominates contributed to the firm's troubles.

"This means the end of Drexel Burnham as a viable entity," said a former executive at Drexel, which used its junk bond business to catapult from a third-tier brokerage to the nation's fifth-largest in under a decade.

Drexel Burnham Lambert Group Inc. said Tuesday it had defaulted on about $100 million in loans and a lack of cash threatened other defaults. Drexel was turned down for bank financing it sought to avert the filing.

Drexel said the petition for reorganization cites liabilities exceeding $3 billion and assets exceeding $3.6 billion. The company said the bankruptcy filing was being made Tuesday night at U.S. Bankruptcy Court in lower Manhattan.

Chief Executive Frederick Joseph told employees Tuesday morning the parent company and certain subsidiaries would file for Chapter 11, which would protect Drexel from creditors' claims while it attempted to deal with its shattered finances.

Workers later were told they would be paid Thursday but Drexel could guarantee nothing more.

Few on Wall Street believe Drexel will survive. Many stock and bond traders refused outright to do business with Drexel on Tuesday, and stock exchange specialists said Drexel brokers were openly soliciting jobs on the New York Stock Exchange floor during the day.

Wall Street professionals said shock waves from Drexel's disclosure were muted because its crippling financial problems had been anticipated, and the decline of its junk bond business known for months.

HOP TOO'S®

Great Chinese Food...

- Cooked Fresh When Ordered
- No MSG Added
- Open Daily from 11am
- Free Delivery - (min. order $7)

Delivered. <sup>SM</sup> free!

|   |  |  |
|---|--|--|
| Offer #1 $1.00 OFF $1.00 Off of your next purchase of $7.00 or more HOP TOO'S Great Chinese Food...Delivered® | Offer #2 FREE Free soup or egg roll with purchase of $7.00 or more HOP TOO'S Great Chinese Food...Delivered® | Offer #3 2 for 1 Buy one regular Honey chicken and get one free with purchase of $10.00 or more. HOP TOO'S Great Chinese Food...Delivered® |
|---|--|--|

1 Lansdowne Street
Boston, Mass. 02215
536-0300

62 Washington Street
Brighton, Mass. 02135
739-0200

217A Highland Avenue
Somerville, Mass. 02144
666-0060

For the price of a movie ticket, we can give companionship to a shut-in.

For the price of a fishing rod, we can lure a dropout back to school.

BE THE LEADER OF THE PACK

***BE A TOUR GUIDE***

The Tufts Undergraduate Admissions Tour Guide Program is now accepting applications for tour guide positions. Applications are now available in the Admissions Office (Bendetson Hall). Please sign up for a brief interview upon turning in your application. Positions are available to any student who is dedicated, reliable, and interested in spreading the good word about Tufts.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO LOOK LIKE JUMBO... YOU JUST HAVE TO BE PROUD OF HIM.

Applications are due Wednesday, February 21.

ARTS

A captivating comeback concert from Paul McCartney

by ESTHER FERZOCO
Contributing Writer

We flocked to the Worcester Centrum to catch a glimpse of a legend. What we witnessed was a wondrous and dazzling celebration of one man's music.

With over 30 years of music as an artist and performer to his credit (including being an integral member of the greatest rock n' roll band ever), Paul McCartney's music continues to transcend all barriers.

The crowd assembled at last week's two sold-out performances represented a wide spectrum of fans: young, old, thirty-something, post-hippie, new wave, die-hard Beatles' fan, or average music lover.

My roommate and I (both die-hard fans) found ourselves in the minority as far as age was concerned. We were flanked on all sides by people who were our age at the height of Beatlemania. Next to us, a friendly woman in her forties let us share her binoculars as she exclaimed in excitement that her life was now complete.

On his current world tour -- his first in 13 years, since the disbandment of Wings -- McCartney proves that he can still put on an amazing show. He informed the audience that last Friday night's performance coincidentally marked the 26th anniversary of the Beatles' debut performance on the Ed Sullivan Show.

Following a twelve-minute film montage outlining clips from the Beatles' heyday to McCartney's solo efforts, the concert unfolded and transported the spectator through three decades of music and song. It opened up with "Figure of Eight," one of the six songs performed from his latest LP, Flowers in the Dirt. From that point on, the concert continued on an upward swing that never lost its momentum.

One reason for the tour's success can be attributed to McCartney's acceptance of himself as a Beatle. It's impossible to try and recreate what was, yet McCartney and his back-up band successfully blended both the old and the new. This tour marks the first live performance of many Beatles classics: "Eleanor Rigby," "Back in the U.S.S.R.," and "Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band."

The first half of the show flowed very smoothly, considering the variety of songs that were presented. Songs from his Wings collection such as "Jet" and "Band on the Run" were oddly grouped with "Got to Get You Into My Life," "Ebony and Ivory," and newer releases from Flowers, such as the upbeat "Rough Ride" and "We Got Married."

During the second half, the performance of many Beatles classics doubled the show's energy level. McCartney abandoned his bass on "The Long and Winding Road" and "Fool on the Hill" -- which he dedicated to his "mates" John, George, and Ringo -- to play a multi-colored upright piano that rose out of the stage into the air. "Sgt. Pepper," "Good Day Sunshine," "Can't Buy Me Love," "Back in the U.S.S.R.," and "I Saw Her Standing There" brought the audience's fervor to a high pitch.

"My Brave Face" (the first single off Flowers), "Coming Up," an explosive "Live and Let Die" (complete with smoke bombs), and a cover of Fats Domino's "Ain't That a Shame" all came off without a hitch.

His entrancing voice was clearly evident during "Let it Be" and "Hey Jude," as the audience swayed and sang in unison with him. A warm, communal spirit pervaded the atmosphere as the lyrics of these songs reverberated through every corner of the Centrum.

This magical quality continued through the encore, which consisted of his solo acoustic rendition of "Yesterday," a rocking "Get Back," and the unforgettable Abbey Road medley ("Golden Slumbers"/"Carry That Weight"/"The End") that closed the show in a majestic finale. The two-and-a-half-hour concert contained a total of 28 songs, fifteen of which were Beatles' hits that McCartney had written.

McCartney and his talented band performed solidly through the night. Particularly impressive were guitarists Robbie McIntosh (formerly of the Pretenders) and Hamish Stuart (formerly of the Average White Band). Their capabilities were displayed in a number of solos and, especially, during extended jams with McCartney on "Sgt. Pepper" and "The End."

Drummer Chris Witten (who has worked with the Waterboys and Julian Cope) provided a steady beat and performed a nice solo at the beginning of "Coming Up." Paul Wickens and McCartney's wife Linda rounded out the keyboards section, contributing sound effects and synthesized instruments.

Not only pleasing the ears, the concert delighted the eyes as well. Although the two-tiered stage was bare and uncluttered, an intricate and stunning light and laser show highlighted each song. In addition, the huge video screen behind the stage displayed intriguing and sensual images during a few selected songs. Particularly effective were stark black and white photographs of melancholy women of all ages that accompanied "Eleanor Rigby."

McCartney also took on the task of playing spokesperson for Friends of the Earth, an environmental organization, which he is promoting throughout the tour. Near the end of the show, he took a few minutes to encourage people to fight to save the environment. "Just tell your politicians you want to live in a clean world," he said, to loud applause. A selection of the 100 page free program contains information about this organization.

The audience could tell that McCartney was not merely performing; real emotion burst forth from every song, mingled with sweat and maybe even some tears. As he promised early on in the show, the evening turned into a party, and we were happy to share in the festivities. This was McCartney at his best. We knew it, and, more importantly, he knew it, too.

Burrows shines in Sister Sister

by LAURIE JAKOBSEN
Daily Editorial Board

Chanting the names of mythical women, Vinnie Burrows took to the stage at Hotung cafe last Thursday, emanating the power that characterized her one-act drama, Sister Sister.

Her one-woman production was sparsely adorned, her green cloak, a chair, and a candle her only props, with no musical accompaniment to help her find her pitch. But Burrows did not need any help -- every eye of the largely female audience was riveted to her as she presented all kinds of women and the stories of their lives.

Burrows' has the ability to mimic the accents and mannerisms of many races, from South American to Middle Eastern to the many American regionalisms, making each of her tales authentic and believable. Her material walks the fine line between pointing out injustice and accusing people of it, mainly by centering her attention on individuals in her characters' pasts, rather than lumping the blame on a group.

The poignancy of each characters' lines moved the audience from laughter to tears in almost every one of the ten or so tales. The words create an extended lyric poem, rather than the traditional monologue form. Burrows' drama repeats the themes of birth and rape in many of the characters' stories, displaying the unity that women can have, regardless of race.

The character portrayal was phenomenal. Burrows made each woman appear as a separate person, sucking in her cheeks for the elderly woman who is, as she sings in a raspy voice, "too old to work; too young to die." Burrows was able to switch to the bashful, skipping Eliza Jane, with her high, child's pitch.

She was equally at home with the Italian Lucia as she was as the young Asian-American. In the latter portrayal, she spoke in an accent within an accent when she spoke as the woman's recollection of her Japanese mother.

In this skit, Burrows also introduced a more political side of

Photo by Jen Kleinschmidt

Vinnie Burrows in her one-act, one woman drama which she performed at the Hotung cafe last Thursday.

Sister Sister, recalling the identity crisis of the Asian Americans and the injustices towards them in this country during World War II. Next, an older woman, Soujourner, asks in one of her many conversations with God, "What ails this here Constitution?" and a Honduran campesino woman discusses the problems in her nation.

The most affecting story was that of Donna, who was raped in the fields when she was thirteen, and after this man destroys her life, he insults her with the ironic phrase: "It's too late for your Mama; you've got yourself a man now." To alleviate the tension, a humorous but true anecdote about what men can do to understand the need for women's liberation.

The last person Burrows portrayed was Winnie Mandela, describing not only the terrors of detention, but how she was able to find the strength to go on, through the knowledge that she was never alone -- that there were other women out there both suffering and pulling for her.

Chills ran down my spine as she reminded the audience that when the mind is free, the body is free, and that awesome chant, first in her native language and then in English, "Power to the People!"

Coming out of character, Burrows was greeted by a standing ovation that continued until well after she left the stage. Sister Sister and Burrows well deserved that acclaim, and hopefully in the future, Tufts will see her again in a larger capacity performance that her performance deserves.

There'll be a quiz...

This is Notables, an informal column of music and industry news from the local to the international, plus short album reviews. Since this is intended to be an interactive column (and to keep down the work of us editors), if you feel motivated to drop off a local listing or review, leave the info, with name and phone number, in the Arts mail box. If received by Monday, listings should appear in Wednesday's column.

Laurie Jakobsen

Notables

Okay, here's the goods. The first major label album from the spectacular Boston band, Heresix, is set for a February 20th release. The Island Records LP is titled Tyrant, and was produced by Ed Stasium, whose credits include Living Colour's Vivid, and The Smithereens' 11.

Paul McCartney's recent show at the Centrum received positive reviews, but it's obvious that McCartney's solo recording career is all but over. His recent album, Flowers In The Dirt, sparked McCartney's best critical response in more than a decade, but the album sold poorly and yielded only a minor hit, "My Brave Face." In 1989, McCartney's co-writing of Elvis Costello's "Veronica" did better on the music charts than one of his own singles.

Another idol crashes down -- Billy, that is. He took a dive off his motorcycle last week and broke a few limbs. It's got to be putting a crimp in both his musical plans -- he was just finishing his new LP, Charmed -- and his venture into the acting world, as he was slated to play Jim Morrison's best friend Tom Baker.

You thought I was going to say he had the part of Morrison, didn't you? No, that honor goes to Val Kilmer in the as-yet-untitled Oliver Stone written and produced flick. I'm not over Born on the Fourth yet; can I handle this?

I doubt I have to remind you that there's a jazz festival about to happen here at Tufts -- don't forget there's another one still going on at the Regatta Bar and the Charles Ballroom. Even more good news for you jazz fans: Marcus Roberts, pianist with Wynton Marsalis, has his second LP coming out in March or April.

An interesting idea: producer Jonathan Elias has just come out with an LP entitled Requiem for the Americas, a tribute to the American Indians, and the proceeds going to a fund for them. What I don't get is that in all the star-studded cast -- including Jon Anderson, Duran Duran, Grace Jones, Patti Scialfia, Dan Reed, Sue Hoffs, Michael Bolton, Stewart Copeland, Toni Childs, Martin and Charlie Sheen -- there's not one Native American that I know of.

Still, it's a great idea and it's raising money for a good cause, and if that doesn't grab you, there's another plus: previously unreleased see MUSIC, page 13

HAPPY VALEN

JAN

Since you didn't want me to buy anything, I got you this neat free personal, but you know how I really feel, and that's all that matters. Have a great day. Love, Larry

***R.J. Sebastian***

If love write kisses, I would send you an infinity of them. Happy Valentine's Day, I love you! Naj

Jamaica man-

Our first V-day. I love you very much (even if I am stressed). Hope we have many more days together. You can crack my coconuts any day! -me (ze za pee)

LISA,

To my favorite roommate, who insists on wearing black today... Even though you don't know who Voltaire is, I still love you! So far this yer's been a BLAST, but who knows? Erwin might reappaera and then what? Well, you've got the bottom bunk, so I guess he'll find you first! Happy V-D! Love lots, Naj

Happy Valentine's Day (Part I)

James & Andy (Ultimate party mongals), Sam (No. 3 is optimistic!), rocky (I wanna rock right now...), Spo (meatball Daddy!) and Rick (Hope you wear my t-shirt to bed!) Love, Mel

Happy Valentine's Day (part II)

Terry & Edwin (Who's gotten it more?) and Fred (Babe, I LIKE doorknobs!) Love, Mel

Mon Amour,

Words can't express the way I feel for you- the way you hold me, the way you touch me. Everything you do to me, you know I like it. Don't stop now!

To the Gay, Lesbian, and Bisexual community I love you all to death -Wally

TO THE GUYS: (Matt, Dan & Ollie)

I'm sending you this personal to say, Happy Valentine's Day! And to let you know, I think you can be really nice, when you let it show. Love, Marj

Eeeric,

Will you be my valentine? Nahreema

Dear Jon,

thank you for being my Valentine. I hope you have a very happy Valentine's Day. Love always, Marjorie

Happy Valentine's Day to all the guys & girls in Macphee & Dewick dining. -Peg McLeod

NO KEGS! BE NORMAL! LET'S BOND!

to the best staff ever -Brian, Ron, Tammy, Mike, Sue, and the Hu's- Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Julie

LIZZY - BE MY VALENTINE!

Spoon, forest, Happy New Year, Washington, Faneuil Hall, IGC, our families, frozen yogurt, crew monster, IGC, late nights and our long weekend together. I love you. -Your Martian

HAPPY VALENTINES DAY

My little Schne, mix (the best and coolest ever), Nat, Margie, Deb, Nina, Romy (my new friends) and Megan and Jeanine. Love Free

Nancy

Besides being the best Valentine a guy could have, you're the best thing that's ever happened to me. I love you with all my heart (but you know that already, didn't you?). -Greg

To Joelle:

I hope this and all your Valentine's days are very, very spiffy. Love, Bob

To our favorite AEPI pledge:

We consider sex sleeping- so come around the corner and give us your pin... We'll take care of you!! Happy V-D! Love, Megan and Jen

To Clark Kent and my new friend-

Now that we've met for the second time, I have a feeling it's going to last. I've finally met my match. Thanks for making me so happy. Te quiero! Petunia.

Rosemarie,

Have a HAPPY VALENTINES DAY. I HOPE your parents are subscribers to the Daily. I'm sure that would prove to be interesting. Love, Gene

Rose Rose Rose Rose

Rose Rose Rose Rose Rose Rose Rose. A dozen roses for Rosemarie from me the G. Love, Cheapo

Lan & Rosemarie,

I wish you Both the Best of Valentines and await the day when you will pay more attention to me instead of those GEEKS you are always with. Secret Admirer

Sanjay:

Kya Hal He! Thank you for a wonderful 3 weeks not to mention the roses. I'm looking forward to another afternoon with Mickey Mouse! Happy Valentines Day! -Monica

Debbie Skolnick

I'm so excited to be your owl sis! Welcome to pledging and awesome times! Happy Valentine's Day! Julie

AUDREY C:

Do you know what's going on? I don't either, but be my Valentine anyway. Love, S.T.

Dear Andrew,

Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Claire.

DANIELLE LACROIX & BETHANY DUPONT

Happy Valentine's Day. Keep smiling. You're an awesome pledge and Bathany this one's for you. A-love, Julie D.

Attn: Mo Healy

There once was a woman named Mo, whose underwear lines would always show, she's in search of a man, so ask her for a date if you can and tell her you like when her headlights show. Love, Muke

LARREN

That's about enough of your silliness. I'm sorry already. Happy Valentines Day.

Dear Laurie-

You kissed my friend Arnold. How dare you. -Your nifty friend who is also Arnold's friend

To those Sexy Amalgam WOMEN who thought they wouldn't get a Valentine- you did. Love always -JAK

Timmy-

Smile and have a Happy Valentine's Day. Love, Pokey

To Rockin' Rachel (that would have to be you) Isn't this a queeah personal? Oh well, happy Valentine's day to the ballet star of Wien- Sarah

To my 115 1/2 suiteheart-

Happy Valentine's Day Peachy Paul! Thanks for being there for me. Hope you like Franconia. Love, Jane (and Snuffles)

To those two sexy girls of the Lewis 320's Thanks for everything guys- you two are the greatest. It's Valentine's Day - you know what I want. Love, Jeff

Sue:

Here is your Valentine's Day Message. I'm crazy about you and I wish you would be mine. I am looking forward to seeing you today. -Chris P.S. You look great with your hair down.

H.C.D.

I hope our V-day together does not stand for Virus-day or Virus-week. In other words, get better and take me out to dinner! (-) I love you hon.

Nilima,

What more can I say than "I couldn't be happier when I'm with you." I see many late night thunderstorms in the future. Happy Valentine's Day! Oh... "Do you hate me?" Love, Eeee

Michael-

Happy V-Day! Should I fax this to you at work? Our time together is even more special. I'm incredibly happy. Remember, taking phone calls could be a loss. Looking forward to a romantic night. I love you always - Cheryl P.S. I'm wearing a skirt.

Hey Old Lady,

Happy Valentine's Day. You are becoming very special to me, let's go for it! -Who else?

Dinklefuddy,

Keep your chin up, Happy Valentine's Day. I love you, B

HEATHER RUBIN

Get psyched for Chi-O! The best is yet to come! I love ya! Julie

Sara,

To the hottest Babe and sexiest chick on this campus. Please be our Valentine. ...You know who

ERIC:

Happy Valentine's Day to you- my intensely incredible flabberman who dreams every night of finding just one small layer of muscular striation- but who has made all mince come true! Love, T

Kathryn,

I'm not sending this to you to gloat some more. Dinner will shut me up. May your Valentine wishes all come true and may I always be a part of them as you are in mine. You are so special to me. Love, Eric

HAPPY VALENTINES DAY TO MY FRIEND IN HOUSTON 3RD FLOOR You're the best friend anyone could have. I don't know what I'd do without you! Tune shut hamoves!!

Garth and Tony

-333 loves 666- and don't you forget it! Hayley and Loretta

Cookie-

It's been an interesting three months, but let's try to mellow out for the next three. I love you. (P.S. Done that word search yet?!) -MeT.

MEW

You make a good platter of pancakes and a good girlfriend. I'll see you tomorrow so we can make out. Happy Valentines Day. Love, Andrew P.

MARK Z-

You're a great guy, and I'll tell you why- class would be pretty bad but your notes make me glad! Pretty good poem, huh? Happy Valentine's Day! -Alissa K.

BILBO

Congratulations on DTD! You were having a great time Saturday- probably because of my presence at the Tyson match. Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Alissa

Alexa-

Happy Valentine's Day. I'm proud of all you do. Love you - Alissa

ELLIE-

You are the Valentine of my dreams! Don't forget to have gifts #5 and #6 ready for when I come over tonight. Love always, Willie

Dear Honey-Cookie,

Thank you for being great and making me so happy. Lots of love. Always. Tu valentin

Josh G.-

Thank you for a fantastic four months! Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Erica

Alan,

Two yers later and it's still as good as that first snowy night! As we both beckon with love, days pass on. Here's to many more. Love always, Sue

DAVE-

Even though you wouldn't let me come over and study on Monday night, I'm hoping you'll still let me come over and do other things...

LAURELLE,

HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY! This will be our 2nd together! There will be MANY more to come. I treasure every moment I spend with you! I LOVE YOU ALWAYS! BERT!

JEN, EILEEN, MEG, AND KERI,

You are the rugged goddesses of fitness and snowboarding, and thus the perfect women for us. Let's get together and play Twister for a MI NI MUM of 2 nights. Love, Sex eyes and Greasy red

To E.J.S.

16 months, 2 Valentines Days, hundreds of formals, limo rides, one summer, closed eye pictures, football, Wudy's, etc... I love every minute of it! Always yours, S.J.D. (Pickle)

Danny L-

You'll be my Valentine forever! Love, M.J.

D.W.

being yours has been great. You've changed my life. Thank you for letting me be horny and accepting all the difficult things that come with it. I've never been happier. L.A.G.B.

Dear Mitch,

With you by my side, everyday seems like Valentine's Day! I love you! Adrienne a.k.a. The New Me

G.B.B.-

I'm glad you're mine! Happy Valentine's Day. Love ya lots, D

To the nine hottest men and women

on the Tufts Daily Business Office Staff: Bubbles, Mike "give me the key" El-Diery, Alex "Big" Louie, Barbara "Jean", Marjorie "the lone" Zarin, Meg "where is my raise" Staines, Aimee "the natural" Clark, Monica "speeding ticket" Heidelberg, and Stacey "fetish with matching socks" Feldman; Y'all are the best! Thank for making my job so easy! Happy Valentine's Day! -Luv H. "office goddess" Paddock

Rachel!

Today's just another day! We can always ski and skate! -DMF

Hey Lori Storm!

Have a great Valentine's Day! Welcome to AOP! Looking forward to having great times with you! Alpha love your Ruby sister, Lisa

SUZANNE GLEBER:

Happy Valentine's day to the best B-Fri in the world! Sorry I didn't get to meet your flight, but now that rush is over we can do those fun things we'd planned. Love ya - Jenny

TO: PUMA

You're the greatest! You keep me going every day! Sos el sol de mi vida! Te quiero muchísimo! Te amo con todo el alma de mi corazon. Kermit

Beth, Lauren, Michelle, Michele, Laura and other Daily babes:

You guys are the greatest and have a happy Valentine's Day- you deserve it! Love, Larry

Winkie,

Dude, I have a funny feeling you'll have a good Valentine's Day, so enjoy it while it lasts. See you in a week, if you last that long. Love, Bam-Bam

Laura Boucher,

Even though Stats is boring, your presence makes it quite worthwhile. Have a great Valentine's Day, babe. Sorry I had to cancel our plans... can I take a raincheck? Love, Larry

STEVE CHAFF

No, it hasn't been a dream. Absence makes the heart grow fonder. I'm back -our hearts are still growing with everyday together. We can overcome anything. My dreams persist. Happy Valentine's Day. I love you-INFINITELY. Always and forever -Elana

DAVE SPIELMAN-

whether you know it or not, you are very attractive. -a very secret valentine admirer.

RAZ-

So this is Valentine's Day at Tufts... Hope you've enjoyed it... Anyway, happy V-Day! (And almost 24!) Love, GWL

GABIG:

Roses are red, Violets are blue, Where in the world would I be without you! Happy Valentine's Day. Keghesig.

BACON,

Here it is, Valentine's Day. Unfortunately you're in England so far away. Only thirty-two days until I'll be there. You better be waiting with case of beer! For I will have travelled all night overseas to get to the man who I want to please. We have lots of lost time which we must make up. I don't want to waste a minute, so you better rest up. Well this is the end of your Valentine poem. I LOVE YOU TREMENDOUSLY and can't wait till you come home! LOVE ALWAYS, SIZZLE

MARK,

I love you!!! I love you!!! I really wish you were here! We'll have to make up Valentine's Day when I get there! Could be LOTS of fun?! I miss you! Love you lots, Heather

*WILSON HOUSERS*

Lounge lizards, East side, West side, everyone -Have a Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Bertha Lump (Lisa)

*GROVER!!!!*

Happy Valentine's Day sweetie! Thanks for being there when I needed you most. I love you more than... Your favorite (and only) B.C.

Amy, Betty, Kathy, Catherine, Gabby, & Kristin,

Just a little note to wish you guys a great day! Get psyched for next year -the best is yet to come. Love, your 7th housemate.

Who can build an engineering toy?

Who can help with LCS? Who can scoop ice cream every second of the day? Paula, Liz and Lisa can! HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY! Love, Lisa

Kermit-

I knew from the first day, you were the one for me. All those many hours of extra help & long talks over coffee in the C.C. - Who knew it would lead to this... 15 months. I love you more with each passing day. Happy Anniversary! -Me

TO ODIE -or Mr. President:

Pink is your color! Lots of love and Valentine Hearts -IGGY & UGGY

To those beautiful wonderful women of 19 Teele-

HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY! I don't know what I would do without you guys- I couldn't ask for a more wonderful group of friends & housemates! You're the best. I love you, Char

VALENTINE'S DAY!

Betsy-
Despite the many rules, Even without SNO-DAZE, your 30,000 kisses have left me in a craze. I wanna eat ice cream and do some fingerpainting. I wish you'd be mine cuz cupid's arrow has pierced my heart, and it hurt! Love, Derek

Michelle-
During the last ten months you have brought so much happiness into my life. The future holds so much more for us. I love you more than words can say -Greg

HAPPY VDAY TO THE MAN WHO LED ME ASTRAY ON THE LIBRARY ROOF. I can't wait to celebrate 5 months of excitement and lust. You bring the whipped cream, I'll bring the shellfish. Who cares what the neighbors think, I LOVE YOU - E

JON
I told you Valentine's Day was an invalid holiday, and here I am sending you a personal. Thanks so much for the past few months. It's been great! Love, Amy

Mark McConnell:
After E.S. lab the time will come, When you will know who these notes are from. Happy Valentine's Day! Adoringly yours, US

TED
Happy Valentine's Day, babe! You're the best! Wish I wasn't so far away. Only one month until London. I'll buy the champagne. I love you. ALISSA

Tufts in Madrid-
Os fijais, here is a personal for you on Valentine's Day. We all miss you so much! Habra una copa? Love, Wendy, Amy, Celinis, Jenny, Anna & John

Could somebody please point this personal out to Neil Swidley? See, he never reads the personals, but I still wanted to wish him a Happy Valentine's Day. Thursday is Wednesday's schedule! Thanks for your help! Lots of love, Denise

Pete O'S
I've loved you for many moons! Many more to come. Bear with me. Love you, Wendy B.

ADAM LESSER-
for a worm, you have come closer than anyone to "taming the shrew." Stay cool, Mr. Johnson. -Helaine

Hey Booby face!
I love to smooch your scratchy face. Happy Valentine's Day! I love you. Smoochie Baby.

Happy Valentine's Day Beth Ann!!
Love, Joe

TO: LAURELLE
I love you XOXOXOXOXO I love you XOXOXOXOXO I love you XOXOXOXOXO I love you! XOXO I love you always! Love, Alberto. Your spanish lover!

Yo brain damaged chic-
Happy Valentine's Day! I was so enthralled I forgot to breath. Drugs. Love, the heavy metal long-haired Junkie.

Hon-
Can we sleep over? Love, Me

Dear Andrew,
Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Your roomies.

Bethany Dupont
Just a little note to make your Valentine's Day special. You deserve the best, hopefully soon you'll get it! Much love - G.T.

Emily Morgan:
Happy Valentine's day!! Welcome to AOP!! I hope your 1st few days of pledging have been amazing. The best is yet to come!! Alpha love, your Ruby sister Jen.

ILYSSA GREENE:
Welcome back from Italy. I bet Valentine's Day there would be slightly more interesting than it is here. Your presence was definitely missed last semester. Happy Valentine's Day!!! Welcome home! Much love, Jenny

To my favorite Alpha Phi sister-
(yea, Rebecca, that's you) - If we fail today's EMT exam it's all your fault! (just kidding) Remember to practice group groping, mouth-to-mouth, femoral pulses, heart rates, and blood pressures! Good luck tonight and Happy Valentine's day! - Luv H

To my favorite pseudo-animal behaviorist-
(yes, that's you Pam A.) Happy Valentine's Day (and this is not truly altruistic behavior) - I'll see ya tomorrow AM! Get psyched for Branford! -Luv H

To the newest 94 Conwellite-
Diana, babe, did you know that you could catch pneumonia streaking around the house like that? (sounds like a good title for another Sally Jessie show!) I'm so glad you're here! Happy Valentines! -LuvH

Stacy Petti-
Wake up and smell the roses! A cup of caffeine a day will keep the bruises, twisted ankles, and broken tees away! Have a great Valentine's day and know that I luv ya lots, babe (especially your great Italian cooking!) -LuvH

To my favorite RA!
(yes, that's you, Lisa W.) - thanks for all the wonderful Sunday mornings -waking up to see your smiling face is quite, well,...you know. -Oh yeah, what's this about a hot "public official"? Happy Valentines - Luv H.

To my hottest buddy Michele,
Happy Birthday and Valentine's Day! I hope this year brings all the happiness you deserve! Love, Lisa P.S. And THEN, they whipped out their mildewed...

Mr. Melons-
You are so special to me. I know I can never care for anyone the way I do care about you. Time passes so quickly with you... I just can't get enough of you. I love you so much & I'm looking forward to the future... Happy Valentine's Day my sweet love!

Ploopie-
Roses are red, Some can be pink, I wrote you a poem, You'll like it, I think. It's too long to fit, So tonight you can see, How you really inspire the best out of me. Love, Loopy

MICHAEL LUCHS!
Hey you sexy thing, I love you... this much! Un beso grandisimo, Ellie

ATZ,
Thanks for the last 10 weeks. Happy Valentine's Day! Love, LMA

Bronwyn, Janna, Jen, Kim, Liz and Tova-
Outburst, spandex, various forms of tobacco, drunken couples hair cutting, goldfish and late-night storytime - Your suite is definitely one-of-a-kind. Buckets of love and all that Valentines day stuff. -the 450's

**SPEEDY****
Happy Valentine's Day! I love you, I love you, I love you!!! Love, OPUS

Welcome to the Fourth Annual
"Valentine's Day Sucks - Wear Black" protest. Dress accordingly. Sponsored by Alicia and associates.

Love Shack Baby,
You are my love, my life, my forever Valentine. Only a few months left until our dream is realized. Hang in there, I love you! It's as big as a whale

Mark,
Thank you for catching me when I fall and for your understanding. I owe a lot of my happiness to you. I love you. Yours today and always, Karen

Dickie Love!
You big say!! I love you Valentine any day. I bet you're right here. Tucking assie, I love you to death! -Poch

RTL-
Happy Valentine's Day! Get psyched for Spring Break -it'll be the best one yet! You deserve it -you're something else. Love, Sue

R.P.
I think the popular consensus is, "It's about time!" But it was all worth it, and with each day that passes I grow to love you more and more. Happy Valentine's Day! Love, J.

Dear Erin,
Happy Valentine's Day! Predictable, huh! Have a great week-off and get better! Love, Michael

To: Debbie, Jen, Sue, Laurel, Maria, Marie, Christine, Sorel, Tammy, Teruka, Suzanne, Pam, Laura and my friends at the Spanish House - let's enjoy the next 3 months! Happy Valentine's day! Love Carrie

Lisa Mono-
Happy Valentine's Day to my wonderful girlfriend. I love you! See you tonight! -George Glass

STEVE VATH:
Happy Valentine's Day!!! CHO-CH2-AR-CH3

Nancy,
Happy Valentine's Day to one of the most special friends in my life. I hope that we always stay so close. I luv you! Love always, S.D.

Erin,
Happy Valentine's Day! I'm so glad we finally met- the timing may have been off, but no matter what happens, I hope we can stay friends. I really enjoy being with you! Love, Doug

Kim,
Happy Valentine's Day! I love you!! Love always, tom

Alex,
I love you. I worship you. I pray to you. Love, Kathy

To the Sisters of AOPi:
Will you be our Valentines? Love, your pledges

ANTHONY BRUNO TIMPANO
Where are your ties?

Happy Valentine's Day to my FAVORITE GIRL.
Just wanted to let you know that I think you're great. It's been an interesting year. Too bad we didn't meet sooner but there's much more fun to come. I love you.

To: Kasongo
With all my heart, body, and soul, I give you my love on this Valentine's Day! May we stay together forever? Love, Rose-marie

JULES
You're the best roomie and I'll miss all of your stuff!! Really, Remember I love you and you love me too! Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Barb

Sandra J. Grant-
Sorry I forgot to call. We'll have a wonderful Valentine's Day anyway. Love, S. Kaplan

Michael
Since you liked the last one so much, I decided to give you a Valentine's Day personal to let you know that I really love you. Did you hear me? Happy Valentine's Day!

Groovy Smoovy
Jill, I love you with all my heart and so much more. So, will you be my Valentine. Love, Greg

Coach (Grizzly)
Happy Valentine's Day! I love you! Thank you for 15 months and 4 days of wonderfulness...talks, massages, and you make it all worthwhile. Yours-the slightly vampish Southern Belle

To the Beautiful but Oh-so-Desperate girls of DELTA OMEGA: It's Valentine's Day and you're all alone? Noone is calling you on the phone? Don't be upset, don't despair-Just remember I'll always be here...Love from your faithful sis, Been Had Barb

Mindy
Happy Birthday to the best little sister. You deserve the world!! love you! RB

To the Posse-
Thank ya'll for everything. We love you, and we're here for you on the dreaded V-day. Remember, F.S.N.S. forever and always!! Ed and Bets

Bromfield women & Rach
Although you often make us sick, we love you very much. We may not be as fun as you, but we've got that magic touch. (It had to rhyme) Peter speaking for College Ave.

Dear Er
Happy Valentine's Day honey. Looking forward to spending the day and night together. All of my love, Wen

J.L., G.M., M.D., A.C.
True happiness consists not in the multitude of friends, but in the worth and choice of them. I love you guys, and look forward to many more years together. Love, W.

ANN
Wow! Could it be, maybe, six weeks since "Sutter Home" nite? Thank for some great times(w/more to come). Maybe more hugs are in order? P.S. Any more questions? Love, Grumpy

HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY, TRISH BURKE!

Jen Genel-
Your golden locks enrapture me. Please be mine? -Al

ALLYX HOOOOSKA
Wont ya pleeze bee mine? I'll giv ya fiftee bux and a gud tim. Luv, yur sekretadmirah

DEAR GREGORY JOEL,
this is just another reason to say I love you. Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Michelle

Marlena,
Dinner tonight? Hotung? Just kidding. Anyway, Happy Valentine's Day, Gorgeous! I love you! The Lego-Maniac

Dear Seth,
The roses are red, the violets are blue, It's Valentine's Day, and I love you! Love, Beth

To the studbitches and the House of Insanity,
To the seven most wonderful, energetic, and AVAILABLE women I know -Happy Valentine's Day! How many B-words can you think of? I love you all, Dino

Dear Jon-
Thanks for the last four months, full of Bluewhales, talks, fun laughter, hugs, and kisses. Will you be my Valentine? Happy Valentine's Day! Love always, Lisa

Emeri;
I know you have to dance tonight, and you never read these, I thought I'd give it a try. I'm sorry you won't be here for your B-day, but maybe if somebody goes away, we'll celebrate early!! love you, Craig

Mick the Quick, Twelve and a half years!
with Music, art, hockey, baseball, gaga, fiesta, movies, books, Tufts and you, my love has grown and blossomed. Kisses and hugs forever, Little Queenie 8-14-77/2-14-90

To my special love, Shaba
Happy Valentine's Day -Hope that we have many more to come. Stay sweet forever. Love, Harry

SUSAN & SHAWN
to my two favorite lunch dates- Happy Valentine's Day! To two of the greatest women at Tufts. Sue- here's to our last semester struggling through ChemE & I couldn't do it without you! Shawn- You are my favorite skinny readhead! Love, Char

SCOTT KASPER
I love you- Happy Valentine's Day. (no surprises like last year, I promise) Thanks for everything- You're the greatest! Here's that personal you always bug me for... Love, Char

Dear Shari
Happy Valentine's Day babe. I know you pray to personals so enjoy it. You're the best. Love, Aram

FIESTA:
You're almost five and you are so cute. Mommy hopes you are smiling in your Valentine's suit. Kisses, Hugs & love, Mommy xxx

GaGa:
Keep rockin' with Joey and NKOTB. Stay sweet and smiling forever. Happy Valentine's Day, kisses, Hugs & love Mommy xxx

Houston 2West
Happy Valentine's Day, everybody! Love, your favorite Rochesterian.

MEGAN Z.
You get this personal instead of a carnation. Happy Valentine's Day! Love, Feath

Hey Michelle
I told you that you would get some type of Valentine from someone, didn't I? Love, Kelley

Socrates
Happy Valentine's Day! See you tonight -Don't forget!! Love, Kelley

Hilari Goldfine
Happy Valentine's Day. Be psyched for this semester. Alpha love, Your ruby sister, Kelley C.

MICHELLE GIBBS
Happy Valentine's Day! I love you with all my heart! -Jason

Chris,
Here's to Karly, VCRs, jazz, cheese fries, nintendo, knots and Jeopardy. I love you! -Kelley

TO THE RESIDENTS OF THESHAQUE D'AMOUR
Love rules at our place. I'm so glad to be back with you guys! Happy Valentine's Day. -The Lambada Queen

TED!
Deep water rules. I rule. You rule. We rule. Happy Valentine's Day. MBNG

ADAM,
Always remember "wherever you go -there you are." No matter where you go, I'll be right behind you. I'll always love you. Jennifer XOXO

Bill Kane-
Thanks for last night -our night. You were more than amazing! Bill, you were naked, and you looked great! Let's do it again soon! Love J. -P.S. I love your thighs.

SPORTS

Women's track enjoys St. Valentine's Invitational

Stenhouse dominates meet, winning four events in the Commonwealth Armory

by ERIC SCHLIESSER
Senior Staff Writer

On Saturday the women's track and field team traveled to Boston University for the St. Valentine's Invitational held at the Commonwealth Armory. To all in attendance it was obvious that this building was not built with hosting a track and field event in mind. "The atmosphere is a little different, but it is a real fast track," commented co-captain Valerie Hodgkin.

The meet itself was unusually short. The Jumbos participated in only fourteen events, but they performed very well. The results are most stunning when one considers the number of excellent athletes that did not compete for the Jumbos. The list included high-flying sophomore Carol Tate, senior distance runner Katherine Tranbarger, senior sprinter Khisha Pratt, and freshman runner Anne Hanovich.

Commented coach Karen Reardon, "A lot of people were having all sorts of problems. It was a funny day in that respect, but we still had some good performances." Co-captain Karon McCollin added, "As a team we are doing extremely well."

Leading the way for Tufts by winning four events was junior Vera Stenhouse. First, she mixed the long jump with the 55 meter dash, competing in both events at the same time by running in the 55m between leaps.

In her 55m dash heat clocked at 7.49 seconds, Stenhouse achieved a personal record and qualified for the New England Championships. Amazingly, she had run this event only once before in her collegiate career. "It is new territory for me," explained Stenhouse. "I am having fun with it; it is such a quick race. It will help me with other events in creating more speed."

Stenhouse also won the long jump with a distance of 5.25m which was noteworthy but not unusual for Stenhouse. "The long jump should have been better," said Stenhouse. "I have to be more aggressive, and be more consistent." As usual, she left herself a considerable amount of room at the board.

The Stenhouse domination continued with a win in the 200 meter dash. She was officially clocked at 26.07 seconds, although the electronic time clearly indicated that it was 25.85 seconds. This was an impressive race, with Stenhouse finishing many yards in front of her opponents. "It felt really good," reacted Stenhouse. "I was hoping to break 26 seconds. I will keep doing what I have to do. I was really trying to work with the track, [and] have the drive all the way."

Topping off a stellar performance, Stenhouse also won the triple jump. On her fifth jump she managed 11.53 meters, qualifying for the Nationals. The great thing about this jump was that she jumped off the board. "It needs to happen more often [jumping off the board]," said Stenhouse. "A good series is important for jumpers. Consistency is so important." Added Reardon, "Saturday was probably a hectic meet for her. We [usually] try to let her focus on different things on different days. She is having a very good season, and is capable of some very good stuff."

It is difficult not to focus only on Stenhouse, but some of the other Jumbos performed with impressive results. Hodgkin ran the mile, a shorter race than she usually runs, and did an excellent job finishing second with a time of 5:22.84, qualifying her for ECAC's.

Hodgkin also ran in the 3200 meter relay, which ended up qualifying for ECACs with a time of 10:22.50. Other runners on the relay squad were juniors Susan Adler and Sharon Cahaly and freshman Susan Frost. Said Hodgkin, "It was a team effort. Everybody was at its best."

Adler also had a very good day in another event. In the 500 meter run, she qualified for ECACs with a time of 1:26.46. Two other Jumbo participants in this event also qualified for ECACs.

Women's squash encouraged by fifth-place finish at Howe Cup

Ramon devastating for Tufts; team looks to finish 3-0

By CRAIG JACOBS
Senior Staff Writer

Although they lost four out of their five matches played at the Division III Howe Cup, the women's squash team still managed to maintain their hold on their ranking of seventeenth in the country. The Jumbos also placed fifth within the Division III bracket of the tournament.

Leading the way for Tufts, Carolina Ramon ousted all the opponents which she faced during the weekend. Ramon had no problem with her opponents from Colby, Vassar, Colgate and Bowdoin, as she handily defeated each in three games. In the match against Wellesley, Ramon was forced into a fourth game, in which she squeaked by 15-10.

"The highlight of the entire weekend was [Ramon's] outstanding performance," boasted coach Bill Summers. Ramon adds, "I've really been practicing a lot, and my game finally all came together."

Also leading the way for Tufts was captain Robin Natiss, who upset the number one player from Wellesley in five grueling games. It took a courageous performance in the last game, 18-14, to assure herself of the win. "It was, without a doubt, the best squash that Robin has played in a couple of light years," remarked Summers.

The victory was even sweeter for Natiss, who had lost twice to her Wellesley opponent this season. "I knew that if the last set went to a tiebreaker, I would win," stated Natiss.

While some of the players were able to squeak out close matches, this was not the case for all of the Jumbos. For Melissa MacGillivray, the number five player, three matches were very close. Against Colby, she took a two game to one advantage, only to be beaten 15-11 and 15-9 in the final games. In the match against Colgate,

Freshman Cindy Augat, finishing sixth overall, was clocked at 1:24.69. Freshman Beth Blacketter was timed at 1:23.02, which was a personal best putting her fourth overall. "I am very happy," said Blacketter. "I am trying to do it, all season. I have had problems with my feet since mid-October. It is the first time I have ever run this event. Maybe I should have been running the 500m all season."

Senior Tracy Kaufman performed well in the 400 meter, finishing second and running a personal record of 59.39. But she was a little disappointed because she didn't win the race perhaps an after-effect of last week's missed meet at Harvard due to illness.

"It feels good to be back," said Kaufman. "Before the race, I thought somebody else would take the lead. It surprised me [to be in front so early in the race]. The Brandeis girl is an 800 meter runner. Basically, she ran a smarter race than I did. I am not unsatisfied, but I can do better."

In the same event, McCollin, on the comeback trail, ran her first race since her hamstring injury. She ran the 200 meter race under 28 seconds and then cruised to a win in her heat. "With my leg I cannot run the shorter, faster events," said McCollin. "Because the leg has not healed completely."

Sophomore Judy Bowman ran an exciting race, coming from behind to just win her heat in the 55 meter dash with a time of 7.99 seconds. Reacted Bowman, "I had a fairly slow start. I was wary for my ankles. I am trying to qualify for New England's."

Next week's meet, which is the last regular season meet of the year, will be held at Smith, the sight of the Nationals. Said NCAA hopeful Kaufman, "It is crunch time. It's now or never."

tournament with a sour taste in her mouth.

In freshman Abigail Sloane's case, she experienced both the despair of MacGillivray and the jubilation of Natiss. In the first day of the tournament, Sloane lost to Colby and Wellesley in four-game matches. With another defeat at the hands of Colgate, Sloane came back with fire and determination in her racquet.

First, against Vassar, Sloane easily handled her opponent in four games, setting the stage for her final match against Bowdoin. Down two games to one, Sloane rallied to tie up the match with an 18-15 game. Then, she beared down to overcome her opponent 18-14 in the final game to win the match.

Summers remarked, "All the way through the tournament, it was the great attitudes and relationships of the team which made us, as a team, contribute."

"Now they're squash players, with their minds in all of the games!"

Hopefully, with these strong beliefs, the women will be able to finish the season by going 3-0.

MacGillivray was leading 2-0 when she lost a close third game, 18-15. From that point on, MacGillivray was not able to regroup, as she was beaten 15-8 and 15-11 in the last two games.

As if these two matches were not enough, MacGillivray played

Photo by Abigail Sloane

The women's squash team has three more matches this year.

her third five-game match of the tournament against Bowdoin in much the same fashion as her defeat by Colgate. Taking a two to nothing lead, she faltered in the final three games, 15-6, 15-7, 15-11, to come away from the

Women fencers defeat BU

This past Saturday, the Tufts women's fencing team competed in a four-team tourney at Wellesley College. Although the women were only able to take one of three matches, the team still competed well, defeating Boston University by a score of 12-4. Senior Monica Russo led the team in victories, winning all four of her bouts. Sophomore Haly Silver and freshman Rumana Huq followed by winning three each. Another freshman, Loretta Fernandez, rounded out the competition by taking half of her four bouts. But missing from the team was captain Tanya Daly, who couldn't compete due to a leg injury.

The women next faced the host, Wellesley, one of the best teams in the state. The match was close throughout, but in the end, the Jumbos fell just short, losing 9-7. All the Tufts victories came from two people, Silver, who swept her bouts, and Monica Russo, who won three. Freshman Amy Lilien and Daly also fared well against the tough competition.

Stevens Institute of Technology proved to be overwhelming for a Tufts squad consisting mainly of freshmen. Tufts lost by a 15-1 score in a rough battle of the foils. But the team was not discouraged.

Currently, the women's fencing team is training for the upcoming New England Intercollegiate Fencing Championships to be held at Brown University on Feb. 25. Before then, the team will host a competition at Jackson Gym on the Feb. 21, at 7 p.m.

-Rumana Huq

Douglas given titles

NEW YORK (AP) -- Now, the boxing world agrees: Buster Douglas is heavyweight champion.

And there apparently is agreement on another front: His first challenger will be Mike Tyson.

Douglas-Tyson II came close to clearing the final hurdle Tuesday when Evander Holyfield's manager, Ken Sanders, said in Atlanta that his boxer probably would step aside to allow the rematch.

Billionaire developer Donald Trump says Douglas-Tyson II will be June 18 in Atlantic City, although Douglas has not signed a contract.

In fact, Douglas only learned hours earlier that he was undisputed champion when the World Boxing Association became the last of the sport's three major governing bodies to recognize his 10th-round knockout of Tyson on Sunday in Tokyo.

"We don't have a rematch now," Don King, Tyson's promoter and adviser, said Tuesday at a news conference. "We're trying to get one. The first thing we have to do is get a rematch. As you know, the catching comes before the hanging."

King said he was negotiating with representatives of Douglas and Holyfield to work out an agreement.

Tyson, who appeared with King at the news conference, said his loss was "a temporary, minor setback. I don't take it to heart.

I'll be the champion again. I'm still one of the best fighters in the world and when the rematch comes I'll prove it."

Holyfield, as the No. 1-ranked contender, was the mandatory challenger to Douglas' first defense. But he has decided to wait for Tyson-Douglas II.

"We've been approached to make a deal, by Don King, to step aside and make way for the rematch," Sanders said. "We're waiting for the contract from him. If it's what they said it would be, we probably would do it."

Sanders said Holyfield would fight a tuneup on the undercard, then fight the Tyson-Douglas winner in September or October.

"They're just asking us to move it three or four months," Sanders said. "It's a very good deal for us. We know we're going to fight for the championship."

In his hometown of Columbus, Ohio, Douglas said the main thing for him "is that I am now looking upon as the heavyweight champion of the world. It was a lifelong dream come true, and I thank God for that."

The International Boxing Federation recognized Douglas as champion immediately, and the World Boxing Council extended recognition Monday night after King, who promotes Tyson, dropped a protest of the result.

"I never asked anybody to change the decision," King said.

see CHAMPION, page 12

SPORTS

Tufts profits at Pine Manor

Easy 66-38 victory for possibly playoff-bound Jumbos

by GEOFF LEPPER
Daily Editorial Board

It was a night from the Twilight Zone. No records were kept by the home team. There was just a blurb in the Globe which said "Tufts 66, Pine Manor 38."

Of course, there wasn't much more that was needed to sum up the Jumbos thrashing of their hosts.

Tufts ran their record to 13-3 (5-2 on the road) with the easy victory over a weak Pine Manor team. The Jumbos put the game away in the second half, outscoring Pine Manor 40-15, after being up just three (26-23) at the break.

Tufts' defense, nationally ranked in holding down opponent's field goal percentage, didn't hurt that stat by giving up only 12 field goals the entire game. Pine Manor shot a horrendous 21% (12-of-58) for the game, and hit only 6-of-34 in the second period.

|  |      |       |  |
|--|------|-------|--|
| TUFTS (66)   |      |       |  |
| Soucy  | 2-6  | 2-2-6 | LaCroix 7-13 1-2 15, Foxson 7-14 0-0 14, Milardo 5-12 3-5 13, Treadup 2-6 0-0 4, Dennis 0-2 0-0 0, Kelley 2-4 0-0 4, Liberty 1-4 0-0 2, Arancio 2-4 0-0 4, Silverstein 1-3 0-0 2, King 1-2 0-0 2, Totals 30-70 6-9 66. |
| Pine Manor (38)  |      |       |  |
| Shea   | 2-10 | 2-5-6 | James 1-6 1-6 3, Gallitto 2-8 2-2 6, Bavinneau 4-12 5-5 16, Fabiano 3-20 1-2 7, Constantino 0-2 0-0 0, Von Gimborn 0-0 0-0 0, Totals 12-58 11-21 38.   |
| TUFTS  | 26   | 40    | 66   |
| Pine Manor   | 23   | 15    | 38   |
| Three-point goals—Tufts 0-0, Pine Manor 3-13 (Bavinneau 3-8, Fabiano 0-5), Fouled Out—None.  |      |       |  |
| Rebounds—Tufts 72 (Foxson 16, Pine Manor 35 (Gallitto 11), Assists—Tufts 28 (Treadup 9), Pine Manor 11 (Bavinneau, Fabiano 3), Total Fouls—Tufts 24, Pine Manor 20, Technicals—None. |      |       |  |

Photo by Ron Starr

Junior center Jen Foxson scored 14 points and had 16 rebounds against Pine Manor

Pine Manor's free throw shooting (9-of-10) was the only thing that kept them in the game in the first half, and when that slight touch went south after halftime (they hit a miserable 2-of-11 in the second half), the game was over.

The Jumbos also put their offense into high gear in the final half, hitting 18-of-30 shots and grabbing the lion's share of their 31 offensive rebounds. The ease of the victory gave almost everyone a chance to shine.

Sophomore forward Danielle LaCroix had her second big game against Pine Manor in as many meetings, knocking home 15 points and snaring as many boards (she had 18 and 9 last year). Center Jen Foxson continued her dominance in the paint, scoring 14 and grabbing a game-high 16 rebounds.

The starting guard tandem of shooter Tara Milardo (13 points) and passer Re Treadup (nine assists) also performed very well.

The Jumbos, just outside of the Division III top 10, are looking to sew up a possible ECAC Tournament bid in their last six games. But two of their opponents, Wesleyan (at home, Feb. 20) and Amherst (on the road, March 1), are also in the same position, on the fringes of the top 10 poll, looking for a bid. If the Jumbos aren't able to make the ECAC's, they should definitely make NIACs, possibly hosting the tourney.

Tufts starts their charge to the playoffs tomorrow night against Gordon in Cousens Gym at 7:00 p.m.

Jumbos dominate home meet

by GEOFF EDGERS
Daily Editorial Board

While I watched helplessly from the bench as the Tufts Daily "basketball" team got their be-hinds kicked by the Observer on Saturday, the Tufts men's indoor track and field team were systematically breaking down their four opponents in a different section of Cousens.

By beating Brandeis, Bates, Colby and Fitchburg State, the Jumbos pushed their record to 16-2, the best record the team has had in over five years. Coach Connie Putnam was stumped when asked about any downside to Saturday's meet. "I can find nothing negative [in the meet] whatsoever," the coach explained. "I was very pleased with how we performed. This is the best record we've had since I've been here."

The most dominated event in this meet was clearly the triple jump. Tufts scored all of the available 16 points, sweeping the top five positions, behind the performances of senior co-captain John McMahon, sophomore Leo Lane, freshman Stephen Thomas, sophomore Evan Hill and freshman Jaleel Shujath. McMahon claimed that his first place jump of 43.65 was unexpected, because, "I was sick for three days this week and down on myself." He attributed his victory to, "hard work in practice the week before that paid off."

In the hurdles, the Jumbos were represented in the third position by freshman Mike Jerstad, and sophomore Willie Evans in fifth place. The hurdles were a perfect example of what Putnam called, "a balanced attack. There were no places where we weren't scoring. This was a real good meet across the board."

Although McMahon finished second in the long jump with a distance of 20'10", he was not particularly happy with his performance. "I jumped 21'8" last year. Every year since my freshman year I'll work hard [during the season] and get sick. Then I have to come back and take it slow. Hopefully I'll go without injury the rest of the year," said the oft-injured Jumbo leader. Also in the long jump, Hill and Lane scored points by placing fourth and fifth.

The worst team running events for the Tufts' squad came in the 50 yard sprint and the 200 meter dash. McMahon's fifth place in the 50 and sophomore Wilner Borgella's third place in the 200 gave the Jumbos their only scoring in those events. Fortunately, the team's mix of experience and youth provided Tufts with outstanding results in the longer races.

In the 800 meter race, junior Eric Gyuriscko and sophomore Ben Linden scored four points for Tufts in a tough field. The 1500 meter race was the stunning. Freshman Marty Keane won a close race, followed by sophomore Dave Buscemi and freshman Steven Swift scoring third and fifth place points. Keane and the second place finisher from Bates swapped positions until the very end of the 1500 meter, when Keane came from behind to nip out a win by .4 seconds.

The 3000 meter run was more of the same for the Tufts' team, with junior Joel Rich and senior co-captain Stephen Driker capturing the second and third positions. In 3200 meter relay, the Jumbos won with the third fastest time in Division III all year in the event. McMahon described the feeling of the Tufts running team at the end of the meet by saying "Everything came together for us. This meet wasn't as close as I thought it would go."

The field events were equally successful for the Jumbos. Senior Mike Gray and junior Bob Hammond finished third and fifth respectively. In the shot-put, junior see DOMINATE, page 13

JV hoopsters win one, lose one

Tufts beats WPI, 93-86, but loses to Brewster, 91-71

by DAVID M. JAFFE
Daily Staff Writer

In a season marred by a difficult 0-3 start, the Tufts JV basketball team has pulled itself together and achieved a respectable 4-6 record with three games remaining. The team's 4-3 streak has been accomplished against teams featuring players who are headed to the big time in such outstanding basketball conferences as the Big East and the Big Ten.

Monday night, the Jumbos matched up against Brewster

Jumbos say "bring on New Hampshire"

Tufts completes Maine sweep

by MIKE FRIEDMAN
Daily Editorial Board

A week ago, if you asked any men's squash player what his favorite state was, you'd get a variety of responses. But after Colby and Babson visited Tufts last Saturday, all members of the team would have to tell you "Maine."

"Half of our wins have come against teams from Maine," said tenth-seeded junior Mark Elman, "so we should play them much more. Too bad there are only four."

The 7-2 victory over Colby, combined with earlier wins over Bowdoin and Bates, made the Jumbos a perfect 3-0 against teams from the Pine Tree State. But before the Jumbos could raise their season's record to 6-7, the team had to face Massachusetts' Babson Beavers.

To deal with senior Steve Filosa's absence in the number five position, the bottom five on the ladder all had to move up and face higher seeded opponents than usual. This obstacle seemed to faze no one as the Jumbos stomped the Beavers by a 9-0 score, only losing four games in the process, three in tiebreakers.

In the number one position, sophomore Trip Navaro faced the biggest challenge on the team. Although his opponent, Dave Herlinger, was sick, Navaro had to come back from a 2-1 deficit to win in five games. Also needing extra games to win were freshman Marco Caicedo, playing sixth, and Elman, playing in the top nine for the first time since his return from a semester off.

All six remaining players easily swept their Babson opponents. Highlights were supplied by two seniors, second-seeded captain Josh Lebowitz, who gave up just 14 points, including two in the first game, and eighth seeded James Ellman, who almost recorded the Jumbos' first doughnut of the year by giving up just one point in his first game.

Other sweeps came from third seeded sophomore James Porter, who gave up 15 points in his match, freshman Tad Hogan, senior Ed Crowley, and freshman

Lewis Briggs.

With a 9-0 victory under their belts, the Jumbos had to sit back and watch Babson face Colby in the second leg of the tri-match. Although Colby finished below Tufts in last year's standings, the White Mules could not be taken for granted. Elman admitted that, "There was the chance of a let down."

The team was strengthened on paper by the return of Filosa from his LSATs, but surprisingly, the senior turned out to be one of two Jumbos that lost during the late afternoon. Fortunately, the team was aided by a strong performance from the bottom of the ladder easily taking a 7-2 victory.

"As has been the case recently, the bottom of the ladder has been the strength of the team, they've been winning constantly," said Elman.

Crowley, Caicedo, Briggs and Ellman, playing sixth through ninth, each swept their matches easily. Only one of the twelve games were decided by less than five points. "James Ellman played his best match of the year so far," said the tenth-seeded Elman.

Among the top five, Navaro played some of his best squash of the year, overcoming a concentration lapse that caused him to lose the first game. Although he gave up six, seven, and six points in the next three games, they were not as close as the score indicated. Lebowitz won his match in five games, after being down 2-1, by winning the fourth and fifth matches by identical 15-7 scores.

Porter, playing third, swept his opponent, and only gave up 47 points in six games.

Today, the Jumbos will travel up to New Hampshire to face Dartmouth in their final regular season match of the year against one of their biggest rivals. With a record of 6-7, a win would give the team a .500 record, but with Dartmouth among the top eight teams in the country a win will be nearly impossible.

However, it is possible. Two years ago with both teams in similar situations, the Jumbos snuck up to Hanover and stole a match from the Big Green for the second straight year. Elman sums up the team's feeling, "If there's such a thing as one match making the season, this is the one."

Academy, a team that has lost only one game all season. Brewster is loaded with both talent and size, and used both to bury the Jumbos 91-71.

Leading the way for Brewster with 34 points was 6'9" center Sam Mitchell, who is headed to the University of Michigan to play basketball next season. The center scored many of his points on the fast break, hitting with alley-oops, dunks and finger-rolls. He also showed the versatility that Michigan head coach Bill Fisher would like to see against Big Ten opponents, scoring on an array of inside moves as well as jump shots including a three-pointer.

Alonzo Mourning-look alike

Troy Brown, who is Providence-bound, also dominated in a stint that was limited by an injured knee.

Even with all this talent, Brewster could not pull away until the last four minutes of the second half. Sophomore off-guard Mike Victor kept Tufts close with his 31 points (including 9 three-pointers). Also playing a strong game was Anthony Schiff, who scored 16 points and "played a great second half" according to coach Mike Rossi.

The game's turning point occurred with eight minutes remaining, when Brewster had only a six

see JVHOOPS, page 14

Rematch set for June

CHAMPION
continued from page 10

"We just want a first shot at a rematch."

Tuesday's editions of the New York Times quoted Trump as saying: "We made a deal a little while ago" to host the Tyson-Douglas rematch. The fight could be held at Trump's Taj Mahal, scheduled for completion this spring.

Holyfield had a contract with Trump, Dan Duva and King to fight Tyson for the heavyweight championship in Atlantic City on the same date, but Tyson no longer has the belts. So, Holyfield no longer has a contract. He does, however, have the right as the No. 1 contender to the next title shot, which he apparently will waive.

Trump vice president Gary Selesner said Holyfield would fight for $3 million. He would have gotten $12 million for a Tyson fight.

Duva, president of Main Events-Monitor who had the promotional contract with Holyfield for a Tyson fight, said nothing was firm yet, however.

"Right now, everything is in the talking stages, and negotiations are going on, but nothing is firm," he said. "The only thing firm is that Evander Holyfield is the mandatory challenger for Buster Douglas.

"We're not ruling it out," Duva said. "We're just saying everything is premature."

Douglas said while he's not opposed to fighting Tyson again, he hadn't signed anything yet.

"I was upset about the fact that I wasn't looked upon as the total, undisputed heavyweight champion, and now it seems like that's been cleared up," Douglas said. "As far as the rest of it, that's still up in the air."

Tuesday morning, Binns called The Associated Press to say: "The WBA has declared Buster Douglas the champion. It's just upon reflection that this is the right decision." Binns said the decision was made after consulting with WBA president Gilberto Mendoza, who was still in Japan.

WBC president Jose Sulaiman said late Monday that his organization was not withholding title recognition of Douglas, as he had indicated earlier.

Sulaiman said he was misunderstood in his comments about the possibility of not recognizing Douglas, and, in fact, his organization is unanimous in its belief that Douglas should be crowned. Holyfield was in Tokyo to watch the fight and said he first heard talk of his fighting on a Tyson-Douglas undercard during the flight home with King and Tyson.

"Yeah, that's what was decided on the plane," Holyfield said. "They were discussing the rematch, how I'd be on the card, and how I'd fight the winner. My opponent hasn't yet been decided, though."

The forgotten man in this scenario is George Foreman, the comeback king also looking for a title shot at age 41. His promoter, Bob Arum, has said he would like to see Foreman fight Holyfield.

Arum, however, said it wouldn't "make sense" for Holyfield to fight Foreman on the Tyson-Douglas undercard.

King started the controversy over Douglas' knockout by protesting that referee Octavio Meyran counted too long over Douglas when he was knocked down in the eighth round. After the fight, Meyran said he had mistakenly taken up the timekeeper's count three seconds too late.

On Tuesday, however, the referee told Mexican television: "Douglas won the championship fair and square. The rules don't say you have to look to the timekeeper. Of course, you can look for his help."

Superpowers reduce troops

TROOP
continued from page 1

agreement on limits for combat aircraft. Without such agreement, a treaty would be more difficult to reach.

The agreement on troop ceilings, the first of its kind, was one of two at the NATO-Warsaw pact conference capping an extraordinary eight days of diplomacy that saw Baker confer with allies and others in Ireland, Czechoslovakia, the Soviet Union, Romania, Bulgaria and finally in Ottawa.

During Baker's talks in Moscow last week, Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev proposed a somewhat different troop arrangement -- equal levels for the United States and the Soviet Union on European soil of either 195,000 or 225,000 each, with no sub-ceiling for Central Europe.

Baker took that proposal to the foreign ministers of the 15 U.S. allies in NATO, who were assembled in Ottawa for a two-week conference with the seven members of the Warsaw Pact on aerial surveillance as a means of allaying suspicions of surprise attack.

After a farewell chat with Shevardnadze, Baker headed home for Washington after a nine-day trip.

Unification plan devised

GERMANY
continued from page 1

no more. We do not have territorial claims against any of our neighbors."

"We seek a European Germany, not a German Europe," he said.

Genscher made the comments to open the second day of a 23-nation "Open Skies" conference, the main topic of which has been eclipsed by the German unity issue.

In Bonn, West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl and Communist Premier Hans Modrow met to discuss monetary union. They agreed to set up a commission to study ways of making the West German mark the official currency of East Germany.

Work toward the German reunification plan had been under way quietly for several weeks, though the subject was not the stated reason for a number of meetings Baker had with world leaders in and out of Washington.

Baker talked about the matter separately with British Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd and Genscher separately in Washington; with French Foreign Minister Roland Dumas during a refueling stop en route to Czechoslovakia, and finally, with Soviet leaders when he reached Moscow last week.

West Germany's Kohl and Genscher flew to Moscow last Saturday to lobby for unification with East Germany.

AFFORDABLE TRANSPORTATION FOR YOUR DIRTY LAUNDRY.

Thanks to Budget Rent a Car, going home for the upcoming holiday won't cost you a fortune. Because if you have a major credit card in your own name and a valid driver's license that shows you're 18 or older, all you have to do is show your student ID to receive 10% off our regular daily time and mileage rates. You'll also receive a free laundry bag. Which is sure to make Mom happy.

So call (617) 787-8200 and make your reservations today. Then start packing.

Budget

rent a car

Rates and discounts valid at participating Boston area locations only. Vehicles subject to availability and vehicle must be returned to renting location. Refueling, taxes and other options extra. Not valid in conjunction with other discounted rates or promotions. Normal rental restrictions apply. Offer expires 3/31/90.

Free laundry bag when you rent a car from Budget Rent a Car.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____
Phone _____
School _____ Graduation Date _____

This coupon valid only at participating Boston area locations. One coupon per customer per rental. Laundry bags available while supplies last.

STUDENT & YOUTH AIRFARES

BOOK NOW FOR THE HOLIDAYS

| ROUNDTrips                    |             |
|-------------------------------|-------------|
| LONDON                        | from $ 369 |
| PARIS                         | from $ 449 |
| FRANKFURT                     | from $ 409 |
| MADRID                        | from $ 449 |
| LISBON                        | from $ 449 |
| AMSTERDAM                     | from $ 419 |
| COPENHAGEN                    | from $ 510 |
| TOKYO                         | from $ 729 |
| SYDNEY/MELBOURNE          | from $1379 |
| SAN FRANCISCO/LOS ANGELES | from $ 380 |

• EURAIL PASSES • I.D. CARDS
• ONE WAYS • EXPERT ADVICE

THE STUDENT TRAVEL NETWORK

BOSTON
266-6014
273 NEWBURY ST.
BOSTON, MA 02116

CAMBRIDGE
576-4623
1208 MASS. AVE.
CAMBRIDGE, MA 02138

For the price of a road map, we can give direction to a runaway.

United Way
It brings out the best in all of us.

Notables

MUSIC

continued from page 7

readings by Jim Morrison of his own poetry are included. Oh, yeah...

The MFA has a great program on music video going on tonight at 8:00, and the Museum of Science has spectacular laser shows every weekend — right now, Summer of '69, Pink Floyd -- Return to the Dark Side, Laserium Zodiac, and Grateful Dead presentations are going on now, call 723-2500 for times. Friends tell me it's fabulous...

Young MC is at the Opera House on March 10. Remember, this is the dude that wrote Tone Loc's hits — bust your butt and go... Speaking of Tone, he's at work on a follow up album, tentatively titled Cool Hand Loc.

Did you get your Ramones tickets yet? They're playing two 18+ shows at Citi March 8 and 9. Nine Inch Nails opens for the Jesus and Mary Chain at the same venue the following night, except it's a 21+ show. What a bummer. I bet that show will be even hotter than Ministry was earlier this year. Speaking of Nine Inch Nails, let's take a gander at their debut LP, pretty hate machine, and while we're in that record reviewing mode, check out Nick Lowe's best-of effort. Shall we?

pretty hate machine — nine inch nails — T.V.T. Records

This is the best thing that's happened to industrial music since "Stigmata." Trent Razor, who is the band, wrote and produced almost all the material, and it's the most listenable album of this genre that I've heard. Pretty hate machine has both driving dance tracks — "head like a hole," and "down in it" — and semi-ballads, such as "something i can never have." This album may be entirely programmed, and the medium itself swipes a lot of things from other artists (Razor cites Prince, Jane's Addiction, Public Enemy, and others as sources of "ideas and sounds"), but it's well done and that's what counts. — Laurie Jakobsen

Basher - The Best Of Nick Lowe -- Nick Lowe -- Columbia

Basher's effectiveness is owed to its representation of Nick Lowe's career as a musical artist. The album covers the period in the late 70s during the wave of British punk, into the 80s when Lowe became so wrapped up with his production work (Elvis Costello, John Hiatt, and Paul Carrack for example), that his career took a backseat.

Not all of the 70s work is perfect, and not all of the 80s work is awful, but on the whole, Lowe's inconsistency is more evident in the later years.

"So It Goes," an early release from Stiff records in 1976 captures the style of Lowe at his best. The backing band is not revealed, but it sounds as if it could have been The Attractions. (They were Costello's band during arguably his most aggressive period.) Lowe hit his peak with Labour of Lust in 1979, and fortunately seven cuts from that album are featured, including the massive hit, "Cruel To Be Kind."

From here, the songs are more pick and choose. The inclusion of the 1985 version of "I Knew The Bride (When She Used To Rock'n'Roll)" is not a smart move. A better release of the same song is available on a Stiff records live album from 1977.

Besides this, the track is produced by Huey Lewis, which gives this former staple of the punk era too much of a "the Heart of Rock'n'Roll" feel.

Basher is a very good choice for some true insight into Nick Lowe's career. Instead of leaving out the blemishes from Lowe's career with a shorter album, Basher succeeds on honesty and the bonus of seventy-seven minutes of music for only $11.99 list price. — Geoff Edgers

Preparing for NE's

DOMINATE

continued from page 11

iors Leo Casey, and Brett Ingerman combined with freshman Mike Frisoli to secure eight more points for the Jumbos.

This came without Paul Oliveira, a fine thrower for the team, who is nursing a torn ligament in his hand. While Putnam is uncertain of Oliveira's return, according to Casey, "he's going to be throwing soon." Rounding out the scoring was the pole-vaulting duo of sophomore Doug Lang and Lane. The New England qualifiers had a strong showing, tying for a fourth place finish at a height of 11'6".

Going into the New England Division III Championships this weekend, the Jumbos' overall season outlook is very positive. "Saturday, everybody's mind was on the New England Championships," explained Putnam. "We want to win." McMahon predicts, "we'll try as hard as we can [on Saturday], because MIT is really strong. As a team we have a strong chance at winning the NESCAC's [March 3rd]."

The key to this season in Putnam's mind, has been the "older guys leading the freshman." Swift personally noted that seniors Driker and John Regan have helped him in his first year of collegiate competition, and it seems obvious that the attitudes of team members like McMahon, Lane, Gyurisko and Rich have rubbed off on the younger runners.

According to McMahon the mix of experience has paid for the Jumbos. "The reason we've done well is because we have a lot of good freshman. Greg Hutton is a really good addition to the team and Steve Thomas is coming along really well too. This team will be really good for a few years."

Adding to this is Casey, who was also pointed out as a key to the team by McMahon, "a lot of guys on the team are young and we should look forward to a good season outdoors in the spring and a couple of good seasons indoors."

After all is said, it's obvious that the immediate future, Saturday's Division III Championships, is coming at the perfect time for the Jumbos. This should only be the start of good things to come. It may be a bit premature, but it looks as if Coach Connie Putnam might have a dynasty on his hands.

AP News Briefs

BRIEFS

continued from page 3

Cousins said he had begun to realize that Kagan was not properly following his orders to make hard turns in the ship's course.

"I could tell we hadn't turned," he said. And after giving another order to Kagan to turn harder, Cousins said he phoned the captain.

"I told him that we were getting into serious trouble," he recalled. "He asked, 'Where's the rudder?...' That was when we suffered the first shock and we were hard aground."

Asked what further was said during the conversation, Cousins said, "There was nothing else to say. There was a mutual hangup of the telephones."

We need someone with the confidence of a surgeon, the dedication of a marathoner and the courage of an explorer.

We have a unique opportunity for someone very special. A chance to spend two years in another country. To live and work in another culture. To learn a new language and acquire new skills. The person we're looking for might be a farmer, a for-ester, or a retired nurse. Or maybe a teacher, a mechanic, or a recent college graduate. We need someone to join over 5,000 people already working in 60 developing countries around the world. To help people live better lives. We need someone special. And we ask a lot. But only because so much is needed. If this sounds interesting to you, maybe you're the person we're looking for. A Peace Corps volunteer. Find out. Call us at (College) 617-565-5555 x598. Peace Corps. The toughest job you'll ever love.

Tufts Musical Celebrity Series presents:

CHRISTOPHER HOLLYDAY

and his QUARTET

Thursday, February 15, 1990
8:00 pm Cohen Auditorium

$5.00 Tufts, $8.00 General Admission

Tickets may be purchased at the Campus Center or Arena Theater Box Office 381-3493

"he's not your typical teenager... He's an alto sax wunderkind with a burgeoning national reputation."

-The Boston Herald

Sponsored by the Office of the Academic Vice President

Team settling into new roles

JVHOOPS

continued from page 11

point lead. The Jumbos looked like they were going to make it even closer as Schiff drove the lane. However, Mitchell was not going to allow Schiff to score easily and swatted the shot to halfcourt where the Brewster point guard started the fast break. Instead of a four point deficit, the Jumbos were down by eight and could not catch up.

Earlier in the week, Scott Dunlap's 23 points and Schiff's 22 sparked the Jumbos to a 93-86 victory over WPI. Dunlap was the surprise as he crashed the boards like an animal as he knocked in eight field goals and seven out of eight shots from the charity stripe.

Coach Rossi did not credit the victory to any individual game but rather to the team's overall performance. "They're finally getting used to each other's tendencies and understanding their roles on the team better."

The key to the team's recent success, as pointed out by coach Rossi, is the roles that the players have accepted.

Point guard Jason Santos is averaging close to seven assists per game, utilizing his role as passer and floor general, while also pouring in ten points a game. Schiff is the swingman and can score with his jump shot or whit his driving the lane. Garret Forbes, Chris Hummel, and Dunlap are tough rebounders and defensive players who get the garbage inside. Chris Braga is a spark off the bench with his tenacious defensive play.

Perhaps the most pleasant surprise has been sophomore off-guard Victor. Although his shooting was never in question, the surprise is the role he has accepted as team leader. "Mike Victor is a great leader out on the court," said Rossi. "He is the only one remaining from last year's J.V.

team and all season he has walked on the court with a seriousness and purpose about him that has rubbed off on the younger players."

40 years at the same location

STONE PHARMACY, INC.

1122 Broadway Teele Sq.
Somerville, MA

Henry Stone, REG. PH.

Robert Stone, B.S., REG. PH.

623-1010

Tufts Dining - Today's Menu

Lunch

- Minestrone Soup
- VM -- Cream of Mushroom Soup
- French Bread Pizza w/Meat
- VM -- French Bread Pizza w/Cheese
- Grilled Reuben Sandwich
- Deli Bar
- Cauliflower
- Potato Chips
- Valentine's Day Cookies

Dinner

- VM -- Soup du Jour
- Roast Turkey w/Gravy
- Swedish Meatballs
- VM -- Cottage Cheese Noodle Florentine
- Bread Dressing -- Whipped Potatoes
- New Hampshire Vegetable Mix
- Spinach
- White Dinner Rolls
- Decorated Valentine's Day Cakes
- Chocolate or Strawberry Mousse

JAZZ UP

YOUR LIFE!

BE PART OF THE AIN'T MISBEHAVIN' JAZZ BAND

WE DESPERATELY NEED YOU IF YOU PLAY
TROMBONE UPRIGHT BASS

CALL DIRK AT 629-8565

Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds

For Sale

For Sale: Macintosh Plus
1 Meg. with Imagewriter II, Security System, Carrying Case, Software Avail. $1000 call Scott 396-6006.

STUDENT FINANCIAL AID
For more information come to the STUDENT RALLY-BALLOU HALL Feb 15-Noon

USE IT IN YOUR CAR OR AT HOME
Sony D-160 portable compact disc player. With all the right stuff to hook it up to your car and home stereos. $125 or best offer. Call Marc at 629-8798.

YAMAHA 12-String Guitar
Good condition, needs some work. $85 or BO - must sell. Call Mary 629-8909.

1976 Plymouth Volare
2-door, AC, Power Steering/Brakes, Cruise Control, Lots of New Stuff, 80,000 miles. Solid Local Transportation. $500 - but we can talk. Call 623-5305.

WANT EXERCISE???
New Tunturi Rowing Machine available $100 or BO. Also have Head Skis (190's) w/Solomon Bindings, Great Boots, Solomon SX 61 size 11-very good condition. BO. Call Harry @629-8847.

THE JUMBO CARD
33 DUNSTER ST.-20%discount... LUSCIOUS LICKS-50cent discount... THE SPORTS BAR-20%discount.HILLSIDE FLICKS-2 for 1 movie rental.CATCH A RISING STAR- dollar discount. HOLIDAY FITNESS CENTER-20%discount.THE PRINCETON REVIEW-$25 discount.DAVID'S COOKIES-2for 1 ice cream or cookies..GEPETTO'S TRAVEL-$10 discount..ALFRED HAIR DESIGN-$5 discount.MR. TUX-$10 discount.GOOD EATON -hot beverages for 10 cents.. all other restrictions apply..USE IT OVER AND OVER AND OVER AGAIN.. GOOD THRU THE END OF AUGUST.. on sale at the Campus Center for only $5

1985 Plymouth
PlymouthReliant, AC, power steering only 46,000 miles, 4 doors, FM stereo, very good condition, must sell $2900 call 391-7584

LA-DAYTONA-ASPEN-SAN FRAN-CHICAGO
Will beat any price For info. call Ron/Karen at 776-6262

MARDI GRAS
FOR SALE: 2 round trip tickets from Boston to New Orleans. Thurs Feb 22- Mon Feb 26. Call Monique 395-6330 or Julie 628-3191.

GE WASHER AND DRYER
ALMOST NEW-BEST OFFER
JOAN ROSSI-444-8699

THE JUMBO CARD
THE JUMBO CARD AT THE CAMPUS CENTER TODAY

Do you like to ski?
Ski at Mount Snow, and I will give you an extra $12.00 with a voucher before you go. Call Howard 629-8231

FUTONS, FRAMES AND COVERS!!
Direct from factory with Free Delivery, Cot/foam futon 8 in. thick $119. Full all cotton $89. Guaranteed lowest prices. If you can find a better deal -we will beat it!!! Call 629-2339.

KEYBOARD FOR SALE!
Yamaha Portasound P22-560. 49 mid-size keys, 21 instrument voices, 12 rhythms, digital synthesizer, custom drummer, auto bass chords. Excellent condition. Incl universal AC adapter. Orig $260, asking $150 or bo. Call Larry at 629-8757

THE AUDIO CONNECTION RETURNS!
For the 8th consecutive year, The Audio Connection provides the Tufts community unbelievable savings on all major brands of new stereo equipment. Located right on campus, we list complete systems and every conceivable component at discounts even better than "sales" at local and New York stores, all with full manufacturers USA warranties. Maxell XLII tapes are $1.99 each in cases of 9 and TDKs are in stock. Call Otis at 396-1462 or Rich at 776-3242 now for more info, THE AUDIO CONNECTION!!!

Typing/Word Processing
For typing, word processing and laser printing of letters, resumes, papers, or theses, call Ellen after 5:30pm at 488-3901.

HIST 64
Used text. History of Indonesia & The Philippines. Reader Books. Price is negotiable. 629-8206

Services

The N.Y. POST
finally gets to campus!! Good Eaton also carries the Wall St. Journal, Globe, and Times. 8-11 am; 3-11 pm. Basement of Eaton

IVANA WANTS THE PLAZA,
The Jet, 150 million and...Good Eaton. Check out hwy in the Basement of Eaton. Mon-Thurs 8-11am; 3-11pm, Fri 8-11am; 3-5pm.

*Down & Def***
Yol..D.J. Dennis G. will pump up the jam at your next party. For the best house music on campus, there's only one choice. Call Dennis G., master of the turntables, at 623-9690...Welcome!

*Therapeutic Massage***
For your peace of mind. Sports, Swedish, Neuromuscular, Lymphatic, Circulatory, Foot Reflexology. Free Consultation & Reasonable Rates. Call 666-8821 & leave message.

Spring Break Jamaica!
Become the campus representative and earn yourself a FREE trip & spending money! Call NOW 1-800-331-3136...

TYPING-WORD PROCESSING-EDITING-TRANSCRIPTIONS. Quick service. Reasonable rates. Call Barbara, 625-2489.

Spring Break 1990!
Party with the Best! Jamaica, hot days and Reggae nights, starting at $469!! or, Venezuela! Margarita Island at $579!! Call Sun Splash Tours 1-800-426-7710.

Printing Plus
Typewriter sales, repair, rental. Copier sales, repair, rental. Copy $.05. Office supply, self typing resume. 1147 Broadway Teele Sq. 628-0408

WORD PROCESSING
Theses, papers, resumes, etc. Competitive, flexible rates. Free pickup and delivery. Spellcheck, punctuation check, stylecheck (optional). Call us First! We will not be undersold!! Dorothy, 489-2360, night or day.

JAMAICA-SPRING BREAK
LAST MINUTE SPECIAL ONLY $489 CALL TODAY-CROSSTOURS 773-9122 open Sat. and Sun.

JAMAICA-CANCUN-DAYTONA
Hurry, before the hotel and airfare spots are taken. Space still available-$489 starting. Don't miss out on an AMAZING Spring Break. Call Monica SOON. 629-8362.

FRESH COFFEE!!!
Good Eaton is now open for breakfast. Bagels from NYC, fresh muffins, hot coffee and more for your morning classes. Mon-Fri, 8-11am. Basement off Eaton.

The $99 DJ SPECIAL
Laser Sound brings life to your on-campus party with a huge variety of music and massive sound system. Lighting also available. Call Jim at 489-2142.

***EARS FOR PEERS*****
A confidential, anonymous peer support hotline run by and for students. 7 days a week, 7PM to 7AM. No problem is too big or too small. ***381-3888***

**TYPING OR WORD** PROCESSING SERVICE
395-5921

Student Papers, Theses, Grad School Applications, Personal Statements, Graduate/ Faculty Projects, Tape Transcription, Resumes, Multiple Letters, etc. on IBM. Laser Printing. Reasonable Rates, Quick Turnaround, Parking. Serving Tufts students and faculty for 10 years. 5 minutes from Tufts. CALL 395-5921 ANYTIME. ASK FOR FRAN.

***RESUMES*** LASER TYPESET $15.00 395-5921
Impressive Laser Typeset Resumes With Semester-Long Computer Storage. One Day Service Avail. Five Minutes From Tufts.

Also, Word Processing and Typing Services. Student Papers, Grad School Applications, Personal Statements, Theses, Multiple Letters, Tapes Transcribed, Laser Printing, etc. CALL FRANCES ANYTIME- 395-5921.

CMT WORD PROCESSING SERVICES will input thesis, resumes, personalized letters, manuscripts and term papers into an IBM Computer and print text out letter quality. Various software used. $2.00/ds/ pg. FREE on campus delivery. Call CHER at 628-5439.

CANCUN-BEACHFRONT-469!!

We gave a limited number of seats available for this last minute special. Don't be left out in the COLD! Call Greg 391-8457

THE PROCESSED WORD
395-0004 - 395-1013 (FAX) (FAX IN YOUR TERM PAPERS OR RESUME FOR QUICK TURN-AROUND)! Full service, professional word processing service offering typeset quality resumes, term papers, tape transcription, mail forwarding/receiving, notary, FAX service, MC/VISA. Conveniently located in Medford Square at 15 Forest Street (opposite Post Office). CALL JANICE - 395-0004.

Housing

BEAUTIFUL ROOM - DIRT CHEAP
One room available for next year. Next to campus. Washer/Dryer. Cheapest around. 628-2563

HOUSING HELL?!
This is your lucky day. One female needed to live in beautiful house on campus. If you want luxury living, call 629-9137

RENT NOW, REST LATER!
Great Summer sublet behind Carmichael. Completely furnished, hardwood floors, driveway, and great housemates. Female, nonsmokers call Lori at 391-9252 or 396-9666.

1 ROOM AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY
Beautiful new 3 bedroom apt w/ 2 baths, sundeck, dishwasher, disposal and PARKING! No time to wonder "Do I Dare, Do I Dare..." Just do it! Cheap Utilities! 367 per mo. Ball Square- 5min. walk to Campus. Dennis or Steven 391-9340- call us late as you like. Really.

ATTENTION!
1 rm. Available in amazing 4-rm. apt. Excellent locatin -3 houses form campus, on College Ave. Fully-furnished room, and apt, including . Price Negotiable. Call 625-2645.

CHEAP CHEAP CHEAP
Get a headstart on housing for next year everything is done for you-practically on campus-rant is cheaper than on campus housing Call Now 628-5746

8 HOUSES FROM LEWIS
We need non-smoking women to sublet for Spring 1991- furnished, all new appliances, inexpensive, great landlord. Call Robyn or Ilana at 629-8005

CHEAP SUMMER SUBLET
"on" campus. Fully Furnished. 4 bedrooms. large kitchen and living room. appliances, cookware, dishes. call 629-8939

Rides

GOING THRU NJ TURNPIKE?
On Friday 16th returning on 19th? I need a ride to Hackensak. Will share expenses of course. call Ashesh @ 625-3068

I need a ride to NYC on Mar 15
I'll share all expenses, of course! Call Marina at 629-8342.

I need a ride home
I cannot stay at Tufts because of cuts in my Financial Aid.

Are you going to or thru the Albany area during President's Weekend? I need a ride to and from the area. Call Ron at 629-9353.

I NEED A RIDE
to Storrs, CT or the Hartford or Storrs area. 2/16. Will pay for gas and more possibly. Please contact Jon 629-8584.

Ride to New York
I need a ride to New York this weekend, leaving Saturday AM, returning Monday. Will pay gas, tolls, etc. Please call!!! 666-2001

If you are driving to Philadelphia on Fri Feb. 16 and /or returning Mon. Feb. 19, I'd like a ride. Will Share all expenses. Please call Annie 625-2872, and leave a message. Thanks.

RIDE NEEDED TO NYC
Fri, Feb. 16. Will share expenses. Call Karl, 629-9353.

YOU!!
...If you're going to Cornell. I need a ride to Ithaca, NY going the 15th or 16th and returning on the 19th. VERY willing to pay my share of expenses. Please call 629-8650.

Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds

Birthdays

To Bob Goodman:
Happy Birthday to the greatest guy in the world. Dad.

Good Bobman,
Happy B-Day, kid! Have a good one, celebrate much, and don't do too much work...that's what Associate Editors are for.
Love, Larry

Bob's Birthday
Happy, happy, happy birthday from the Production Harem. And for this momentous occasion...a knife...with your name on it. A lot of other people send best wishes, too.

BRONWYN-
To the Best Biggest B... around! Have a great birthday & swim well today. Love always, April

TO THE GIRL WITH THE NEW LOOK
May this be the beginning of a fantastic decade. If not "Blame it on Lorraine." We love you. Happy Birthday. Big Hugs, Kisses, and Poops. Love, Penny!

Happy B-Day Alex!
You are a Crazy 19 yr. old youngster! Tom's Love Shack, Klis' Bed (You know where it is, don't you?) and Mike Dude wish you a most absolutely bitchin' birthday.

JOY SCHWARTZ IS FINALLY 21 YEARS OLD!
Everyone wish this wild woman a happy birthday and happy Valentine's Day. Let's Paaaaraay! Love, the 185 College Ave. women upstairs and down.

Joy and Heidi
You don't know me well, but Happy Birthday! -Your Pledge, Sandra G.

Michele,
Have a wicked awesome birthday! Love, Stud-puppy P.S. You're still not legal!

ALEX
A year and a half of DL, LZ, BJ, (among others). Great, just great (seriously!). Happy 19th, you ZIP-PAH-The cadet

Personals

Dear Students,
Hope to see you at the RALLY to protest cuts in Financial Aid. Date: Thurs, Feb 15 Time: Noon Place: Front of Ballou. Fight for educational opportunity for everyone.

LIFE APPRECIATION DAY!!!
Mar 3, 1990 Make your plans to celebrate NOW! Watch this journal for future details.

Dear students,
Sorry you will have to leave Tufts due to cuts in Financial Aid.

***LESLIE MESSER*****
Belated Welcome to Chi-O. You are going to have the best pledge period. Get ready!! I'll see you Monday-Love your owl sister, Kim

***BETH CRISWELL*****
Hope you're as excited for pledging as I am! Have a great weekend and call me when you get back! Love, your owl sister, Donna

Dear Zowie,
Congratulations! Get ready for the best 10 weeks ever as a Chi-O pledge. Love, your owl sister, Karen

-KATHLEEN SULLIVAN-
In August, though scared and alone, luck never let me live with a stranger. In February, things are always stranger, but you never let me feel scared or alone. I love you, Roomie

To all of those wonderful people who have joined the recycling effort:
Thank you!! You've made a great example of Tufts, and we love you for it--Tufts Recycling and Waste Reduction Committee

Wanted

DESIGN CONTEST FOR LCS KIDS DAY
This is your chance to get noticed! Your color design (no more than 3 colors) gets your name on all advertisements and every T-shirt on every body at Kids Day. Environmental theme with kids. Completed submissions by March 1 to LCS office Campus Center 2nd floor. If interested, call Anne at 629-9557 or Carrie at 666-2001.

Students seeking Financial Aid packages for FY '91. Rally in front of Ballou Hall Feb 15 - Noon.

LOST:
A black Mont Blanc fountain pen on Tues. Great sentimental value. Reward. Call 629-9151. Please help!

DIRECTING PROPOSALS
the deadline for proposals for all Fortnight productions has been extended until Tues., Feb. 20. Fortnight is 2 weeks of completely student-run theater. Information in the Arena Theater. Happy Valentine's Day!

Stone Roses, The Doors, REM, with a little Ministry thrown in
If this combo sounds good to you, I'm a songwriter/singer looking for a guitarist or others to create a new sound with. Serious only. Now's the time. 721-1593

Superior PA Summer Camp
seeks Counselors/ Specialists. All sports. Lake, Pools, Jetskiing, Video, Radio, Drama, Computers, etc.! CAMP AKIBA A GREAT SUMMER! Interviewing Feb 16-25. Call Marie Ray-Sheraton-Boston 617-236-2000.

Get a jump on a summer job!
Customer Service Representatives. Full-time positions. Outgoing individuals needed to answer phones, data entry (Lotus 1,2,3), varied office responsibilities. Great office experience. No experience necessary. We will train you! Close to campus. Call Liz at 391-7366.

Camp Counselor
HAVE THE SUMMER OF YOUR LIFE AND GET PAID FOR IT. Top 3-camp organization in the Pocono Mountains of NE PA. Our 59th year. Positions in all areas-water and land sports, Fine Arts and Outdoor Adventure. Please call 1-800-533-CAMP (215-887-9700 in PA) or write 407 Benson East, Jenkintown, PA 19046.

YO! GUITAR-PLAYING WOMEN!!
We need an accompanist for an April 7 & 8 performance of "Dos Lesbos". Call Sharon at 629-9648 or Mary at 629-8765 if interested.

GET PAID TO STUDY!
Seeking loving, dependable student to provide childcare in S. Medford home Mon & Thurs 1-4pm for 2 children (17mos, 3yrs). Call 391-5156 evenings. Salary, hours negotiable.

RUDE AS HELL!
FISHBONE, TOOTS, THE BEAT ET AL SKA-REGGAE BAND ISO DRUMS, BASS, KEYS, HORNS, VOCALS(MALE AND FEMALE) CHRIS 8951 TED 8502 ANY SKILL LEVEL. GIVE IT A SHOT.

Make a difference!!
Undergraduates apply now for membership on the Experimental College Board. Call 381-3384 or stop by the Ex. College Office in Miner Hall for more information or to pick up an application. Applications due Feb. 26 1990.

Events

FAST FROG
Tonight at Club III Somerville (Free Roses) Bring your Valentine 10:00pm Sharp!

RALLY AID
Good Eaton supports Thursday's financial aid rally. 1/2 off soups and sandwiches. Basement off Eaton. 8-11am; 3-11pm.

ATTN: SINGLES
Are you feeling JOYLESS this Valentine's Day? Well, get psyched for Black, the blues, and Bloody Mary's. You'll LOVE it! See you tonight at 9:00 in 205. (Dead roses welcome)

Showtime at the Agaseiz!
Tickets for this show will be on sale in the African American Center Lounge on Wednesday from 3:30-5:00pm and on Thursday from 7:00-9:00pm. Questions? Call 629-9592 (Harold)

Start the long weekend off right
Sigma Nu Party Featuring Strapping Young Bucks Feb. 15 10 Come to the house for tickets.

Take a STAND for peace
-for disarmament -for a nuclear free environment -for the sectors of society sacrificed for the military budget (the environment, housing, education, healthcare, etc.) STAND MTG. Thurs Feb 15, 5:30-6:30 Rm 209 Campus Center

Did you ever wonder what the Human Factors Society does?
If so, come find out tonight at 9:30pm in Anderson 206. There will be refreshments and great company. Hope to see you there.

The department of Religion is pleased to announce a lecture by Professor Hermann Eilts, Director, Center for International Relations, Boston University and former U.S. Ambassador to Saudi Arabia and Egypt, on "Political Authority in Islam and Christianity," on Thurs Feb 22, 7pm in the Crane Room, Paige Hall. All Welcome.

YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE!
Protest cuts in Financial Aid. BOYCOTT CLASSES- Thurs Feb 15 STUDENT RALLY - Noon-Ballou Hall.

Calvin and Hobbes

by Bill Watterson

Doonesbury

BY GARRY TRUDEAU

THE FAR SIDE

By GARY LARSON

"This is no use, Wanda. It's like they say - we just don't have lips."

JUMBLE THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME

Unscramble these four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four ordinary words.

VELOR

STAGE

REDONP

NAHMLY

Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as suggested by the above cartoon.

Answer: A "OOOO" & PLENTY "OOOO" OF

Yesterday's Jumbles: SUITE IRATE AFRAID MINGLE
Answer: It was supposed to be just a date until he started to do this--"INTIMI-DATE"

CLASSIFIEDS INFORMATION

All Tufts students must submit classifieds in person, prepaid, in cash. All classifieds must be submitted by 3 p.m. the day before publication. All classifieds submitted by mail must be accompanied by a check. Classifieds may not be submitted over the phone. Notices and Lost & Found are free and run on Tuesdays and Thursdays only. Notices are limited to two per week per organization and must be written only on Daily forms and submitted in person. Notices cannot be used to sell merchandise or advertise major events. The Tufts Daily is not liable for any damages due to typographical errors or misprintings except the cost of the insertion, which is fully refundable.

For more information, call 381-3090
Monday-Friday, 9 a.m.-6 p.m. Sunday 1 p.m.-6 p.m.
Miller Hall, Rear Entrance
Medford, MA 02155

Subscriptions

Hundreds of parents and alumni currently receive The Tufts Daily mailed home in a weekly package.

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

Enclose check payable to the Tufts Daily. $15 through 6/90 or $25 through 1/91.

The Tufts Daily
Subscription Dept.
P.O. Box 18
Medford, MA 02153

The Daily Commuter Puzzle

ACROSS
1 Gossip
5 Moslem women's quarters
10 Pump e.g.
14 Adrift
15 Shade of green
16 Gentle
17 Hit
18 Tanker
19 Seed cover
20 From now on
22 Food regimens
23 That girl
24 Calendar span 26 Rural
31 Respond
35 Cowboy Gene
36 Depart
38 Gold: Sp.
39 Remain
40 Gaze fixedly
41 Bird's crop
42 Hanks or Cruise
43 Shut
44 Sheriff's helpers
45 Aim
47 Gifted
49 Cuts wood
51 Taxing gp.
52 Hymn
55 Gradual process
61 Tibetan priest
62 To pieces
63 Farm measure
64 Baking need
65 Old weapon
66 Hawaiian goose
67 Hang fire
68 Beg
69 Walked

DOWN
1 Sprint
2 Atoll
3 Raise
4 Wall ornament
5 Dancer
6 Disembarked
7 Anger

8 - now and then
9 Mal de -
10 Flights of steps
11 Rabbit
12 Skip
13 Morays
21 Nautical cry
22 Great - (dog)
25 Roof part
26 Spaghetti
27 Cars
28 Identifying mark
29 Singing voice
30 Smallest in degree
32 Most evil
33 Delete
34 Used oars
37 Region
40 Killed
41 Unending
43 Pack
44 Inca land
46 Atoll

48 Sang
50 Flower part
52 Fall heavily
53 Rescue
54 Verily
56 Weathercock

57 Killer whale
58 Cake decorator
59 Yes -
60 Necessity
62 Mountain

Yesterday's Puzzle Solved:

TALC APART REDO
OLIO CRIER ADAM TORN COLLECTIVE SEEDLESS MATTER
EASE ABBA
COSMOS NIL NEST
QVENS TILE ACE
NUTS RAGED STAN
ALT APED STERE
NEON MER HORNET
UMPS COLA
SCORIA SORENESS
CONSTRAINS GLUE
ALEE TINGE EMIR
NERO STOOD ROTE

Quote of the Day

"If I don't have class Thursday, you all won't have anything to boycott."

-- Professor Ullman in Music 128, when asked if he would cancel class in honor of the boycott for financial aid.

The TCU Senate strongly urges all students to attend the rally in front of Ballou Hall
at 12:00 noon on Thursday, February 15th and to boycott classes that day to protest the anticipated financial aid shortfall.

If you have any questions, please call 381-3646

Sponsored by the TCU Senate