GFA: The song presents a completely equal understanding of what I put on the drums. "Dzogbe" is the home of what? The warriors. The battlefield is where the warriors belong really. If something bad happens to them, that is where they will end up. That is why I am saying, "dzogbe dzi, kalēfe." If you are defeated in war, the battlefield is your home. The only thing your people can do is take your head back home. At least you have done your best.
