

CONFUSED peAcE

Sought peace and found chaos turmoil marred the landscape while rage bounced off the walls where indecision littered the field with incomplete thoughts the path sought led to awareness of Volcanic eruptions occurring in short spurts yet with such explosiveness that the atmosphere is always at a constant boiling point fueling rage's incessant bouncing ping-ponging off erected walls safeguards built to eradicate the emotional roller-coaster that lose its tracks at times crashing and collapsing on itself a crumbling heap
that clutter sensation halting the wheels that turn shut down the once well oiled machine become immobilized
Start / Stop
On / Off
Come / Go Incompletion now the building blocks that are conceived yet aborted tossed into a juggling act of Fear Rage Love Faith Hope Hate emotions circling on themselves cause turmoil birth disorder breed chaos
therein lies order the peAcE I sought.

By: EXODUS COOKE