

Please find enclosed my poetry submission for publication in the ReSentencing Journal, "Labor Pains." A little bit about myself: I am an EdD student through California Coast University while serving the remaining 6 1/2 months of my sentence in the Illinois Dept. of Corrections. I am at a work release center where I work as a visiting scholar for the Women's Justice Institute. Thank you for creating a space for countless people like me to reclaim our voices, our stories, and our lives. I look forward to hearing from you soon.
