Turn Back

Lost my dad while incarcerated
Got to hear about the funeral can't come
That broke me down to a lower level
This prison makes me frown
Lately I been kind of down
I got to live with that forever
I close my eyes it isn't any better
Visualizing our time together
Laughing and joking
All the blunts we were toking
I use to be in Fendi and things
Now I'm in blue jeans
Not chasing the sack
Still I just want to turn back
