RE: American Council for Capital Formation conference

Attached for your files is the full text of Senator Durenberger's remarks at this week's consumption tax conference.

As you suggested, I made a call to BNA Thursday afternoon about McLure's remarks, but did not leave the conversation feeling particularly optimistic, especially given the lateness of the day. (I haven't seen today's newsletter yet; any luck?)

Durenberger's press operation is virtually in chaos right now, because he is still looking for a press secretary. (I had no idea I was such a hard act to follow...) However, I'm hoping to talk them into doing some press on his consumption/excise tax ideas, including an op-ed.
