

As the days go on by,
Oh how they have flown on by,
I set here and need you by my side,
As you go so far away from me,
These days grow dim and long,
And these nights are dark and cold,
As you go life gets cold as ice,
And I wish our time had never ended!