Alumni and Alumnae Notes

V83

Brooks Bloomfield and his family have headed west to the University of Colorado at Davis (UC Davis) to begin a residency in zoo/exotic medicine. Brooks sold his practice to fellow Tufts alumnus David M. Jonas V84. Brooks also hopes his classmates will visit his new home.

V84

Jonathan H. F. Davis recently won a major coup in acquiring "Spectacular Bid", a 15-year-old racing great. Jonathan and "Spectacular Bid" were featured in the January/February issue of SPUR regarding the deal. "Spectacular Bid" has won both the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, set eight track records and one world record. The article also noted that the grey superhorse was syndicated for $22 million in 1980 and sired 36 stakes winners. The future promises to be full of good mares, classy homebreds-and more name stallions for his home state of New York. He is currently living on Milfer Farm in Unadilla, NY.

Kathryn A. Eaton is currently working at Oklahoma State University's College of Veterinary Medicine as an assistant professor of veterinary pathobiology. Kathryn completed her residency and PhD degree, and served as a postdoctoral fellow at OSUCVM. She is also a diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Pathology. Prior to her work at OSUCVM, Kathryn worked in Massachusetts and the Monroe Veterinary Associates in Rochester, NY. Presently, she is researching animal models of bacterial gastritis and is teaching courses on the pathology of the urinary system.

(For news on David M. Jonas V84, see V83.)

V85

Last July, Robin A. Chapman and Garth Miller were married. They are proud to announce the birth of their son, Matthew Ryan. Robin and her family live in Brookfield, MA.

Margaret P. Connelly wrote to clarify the misinterpretation of her previous hand-written alumnae note. Apparently, she is the owner of a pug-dog and not a pig! Meg practices at the Willard Veterinary Clinic in Quincy, MA.

William S. MacLachlan and Kristin A. Smith reside and practice in Poultney, VT. Kris is raising parrots and plans to construct a larger aviary.

LeeAnn Wesselhoeft received her DACVS recently and is living in Brookline, MA.

V86

Jeffrey R. Kaplan is living in Boston and practicing at the Metro Cat Hospital of Brookline, MA.

(For news on George A. Kramer V86, see V88 news.)

Brandon P. Reines was recently appointed Vice President and Research Director of United Action for Animals in New York, NY. Prior to this appointment, Brandon was director of the Center for Health Science Policy in Washington, DC.

Jessie R. Shayevitz-Kellman is in Fayetteville, NY. In 1989, Jessie and Robert Kellman were married, and she has since given birth to Noah Harrison Kellman. Motherhood is Jessie's greatest pleasure, although she continues to enjoy working part-time in a mixed practice. Jessie also writes that "Blaze" is in Syracuse too and is doing well!

V87

Last spring the Worcester Sunday Telegram featured Robert C. Feccia in an article concerning the rising number of stray animals in this area due to worsening economic conditions. Bob works at the Leominster Animal Hospital and is saddened by the number of people who abandon their responsibilities to their pets.

Patricia M. Handal has a 3-year-old housecall practice in South Lake Tahoe, CA. The practice consists of 70% avian, 20% exotics (rabbits, guinea pigs, snakes, turtles, iguanas, etc.) and the remaining 10% are cats and dogs. She also does work for the local Humane Society and pet shops. Additionally, Patty conduct numerous "Bird Clinics" in both northern California and Nevada for veterinarians wishing to provide avian medicine for their clients.

Lori Palley completed a 3-year post-doctoral fellowship in Laboratory Animal Medicine at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in October, 1991. Currently, Lori is a research scientist in the division of Comparative Medicine at MIT and is living in Newton, MA.

Robin A. Zuckerman is the director of the Seacoast Veterinary Emergency Clinic in Portsmouth, NH. Robin enjoys her relief work immensely despite the odd hours.

V88

Scott R. Handler has accepted a new position with Hills Pet Products as a professional service representative. His territory is Northern New England. In September he plans to marry Marion Larson and will live in Leominster, MA.

Mark E. Stamoulis joined Ultravet Diagnostics Corporation on a part-time basis. Ultravet Diagnostics is a consultant practice in internal medicine and cardiology owned by George A. Kramer V86, in New York, NY. Mark is ACVIM board qualified and has worked with the Animal Medical Center since 1988. Currently, he is the co-service head of their internal medicine/cardiology service.

V90

Susan B. Mitchell and her husband, Don, are proud to announce the birth of their son, Cal Bradbury. Susan continues to practice small animal medicine in Worcester, MA part-time.

Pauline M. Quirk proudly announces her marriage to Tom Daniel. The couple reside on Cape Cod.

Nancy A. Morris' Pembroke-based "Home Veterinary Services" was featured in The Patriot Ledger, Quincy, MA, this past spring. Nancy's housecall practice is busier than she ever anticipated and it continues to be a great source of satisfaction.

V91

Cara L. Kramer is practicing at Broad River Animal Hospital in Norwalk, CT, and living in Greenwich, CT.

Katherine S. Pillsbury is practicing at the North Main Street Veterinary Clinic in Brockton, MA. Kate resides in Wrentham, MA.

Irene M. Takata practices at Angell Memorial Animal Hospital in Boston.

Catherine Zeveney lives and practices in Middletown, CT.

IN MEMORIAM

Dr. Janice Lindstrom Chester V84, died Thursday, June 18 at age 40 after an illness. She had practiced at the Clinton Veterinary Hospital for many years and lived in East Lyme, CT. Born in Worcester, Massachusetts, Janice leaves her husband, John B. Chester and their daughter, Lindsay Kaye. She is also survived by her parents, brother and sister. A graduate of Clark University and Tufts University School of Veterinary Medicine, she was a member of the American Animal Hospital Association and the American Veterinary Medical Association. Janice was a dedicated and compassionate professional who will be deeply missed by her many classmates, friends and colleagues.
