

you dont know what you got until you lose it...

When you are young minded.

you can also be misguided.

My mom always wanted to protect me.

And Lead me the right way.

but I never Listen to her.

because I was blind to the streets...

And deeply in love with the woman that I thought was For me.

2 Thinking I knew all the answers to the whole wide world.

not realizing and knowing I was a lost cost to the streets...

but now I Praise Life itself.

To know that God is with me everyday in my Presence.

and also because is a blessing to be alive! Every second.

2 I had to come to jail to reflect From my wrong doing.

2 To understand, that in life there are consequence For what I was doing.

but one day I realize

When you let go of what you think you are.

you become the Person that you really are to be and now I know that it wasent until I let go of who I.

Thought I was.

That I was able to understand & Embrace the truth

meaning of becoming a Man.

Poem by J. Haldon