Sheri Richman, The Tobacco
Institute

James Savarese, Savarese and Associates

Omi Walden, National Energy
Management Institute

David Wilhelm, Citizens for Tax
Justice

PRELIMINARY REMARKS

Wallace Mergler briefly summarized the Labor Management Committee's background and involvements, and commended the efforts of the Committee.

INDOOR AIR QUALITY ISSUES

Jim Savarese discussed the development of, and current plans for, the smoking in the workplace kit for organized labor. The kit is currently undergoing revisions.

Jim Golden and Omi Walden reviewed the National Energy Management Institute's primary indoor air quality concerns and capabilities on a state-by-state level.

The following resolution was moved and adopted: "That the Tobacco Industry Labor Management Committee support the National Energy Management Institute's efforts to raise the issue of adequate ventilation as a means of addressing 'tight building syndrome' problems."

Richard Marcus reported on efforts to raise the visibility of indoor air quality issues among organized labor audiences, and noted that a shortened version of Gray Robertson's ACVA video presentation is being developed for use in conjunction with an ongoing media promotion tour.

TAXES

David Wilhelm outlined the Citizens for Tax Justice conference planned for January, including: issues to be covered, proposed speakers, and attendance.

He updated the Committee on two projects in progress: 1) excise taxes at the state level and their burden on different income families, and 2) corporate tax avoidance at the state level.

The following resolution was moved and adopted: "That the Tobacco Industry Labor Management Committee continue to support as appropriate Citizens for Tax Justice and the New Populist Forum."

Finally, Wilhelm reported on the Corporation for Enterprise Development (CfED) study of the Grant Thornton business climate index and the positive media response to CfED's report.

REPORTS ON SMOKING AND RESPONSES

Peter Sparber outlined Tobacco Institute plans to respond to the National Academy of Sciences and Surgeon General's reports on environmental tobacco smoke.

PENDING COMMITTEE ACTION

The following resolution was moved and adopted: "That the Tobacco Industry Labor Management Committee provide support as appropriate to the Massachusetts referendum on health care cost containment."

The Committee unanimously elected Michael A. Forscey as the Labor Management Committee Counsel.

NEW BUSINESS

Because some unions which represent workers employed by allied industries have expressed an interest in participating in the Committee, the Committee agreed to study the feasibility of amending its charter to invite participation from representatives of allied unions and industry.
