DEAR ALMA MATER

We con beside thy knee,
Dear Alma Mater,
Earth's book of mystery,
Dear Alma Mater.
We track the storied past,
Dear Alma Mater,
Over plains of learning vast,
Dear Alma Mater, with thee.

Yet more to thee is due,
Dear Alma Mater.
Truth loved because tis true,
Dear Alma Mater;
Handclasp of friendship fair,
Dear Alma Mater,
Strength to fight as heroes dare,
Dear Alma Mater, life through.

Speed on thy sunlit way,
Dear Alma Mater.
We vow new faith today,
Dear Alma Mater!
May glory light thy name,
Dear Alma Mater,
All thy children sing thy fame,
Dear Alma Mater, for aye!

RECIPIENTS OF HONORARY DEGREES

WILLIAM BAKER, chairman of the board (retired) of Bell Telephone Laboratories, is being awarded an honorary doctorate of science.

Having earned his doctoral degree in physical chemistry from Princeton University in 1938, Dr. Baker began his association with Bell Laboratories forty-two years ago, in 1939, when he was appointed research scientist. His extensive studies in molecular chemistry and electrical conductivity properties dramatically impacted on the development of communications systems and the commercial manufacturing of many synthetics.

In 1955, Dr. Baker was appointed research vice president and was responsible for programs which created earth satellite communications and the optical laser. He is also credited with having advanced the fields of information processing technology and cable communications. Dr. Baker became president of Bell Laboratories in 1973 and chairman of the board in 1979.

A scientific advisor to many governmental agencies, Dr. Baker was an original member of the President's Scientific Advisory Committee and chairman of the National Science Information Council. He is a director of Johnson and Johnson, chairman of the trustees of The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, vice chairman of Rockefeller University, and trustee of General Motors Cancer Research Foundation, among others.

Dr. Baker has been presented with some nineteen honorary degrees from colleges and universities in the United States and abroad, and decorated with many other honors, including the Perkin Medal, an international award for applied chemistry. The author of more than eighty scientific and technical papers, Dr. Baker has contributed to some twenty-one books and obtained thirteen patents.

SARAH CALDWELL, conductor, director, producer, and founder of the Opera Company of Boston, is being awarded an honorary doctorate of music.

Born in Missouri and raised in Arkansas, Miss Caldwell, a violin prodigy, came to Boston at the age of sixteen to study at the New England Conservatory of Music. Following her studies she was offered violin posts with two symphony orchestras but chose instead to study opera under Boris Goldovsky at the New England Opera Theater. She spent five summers at Tanglewood under Serge Koussevitsky who believed that Tanglewood was the most exciting and important place in the music world.

In 1953, Miss Caldwell became the director of the Boston University opera workshop, where she debuted as a director in Stravinsky's Rake's Progress. Four years later, she made her conducting debut in Mozart's La Finta giardiniera with the Boston Opera Group, her own company established with $5,000 and the commitment of a small group of friends. Several years later the Boston Opera Group was renamed the Opera Company of Boston.

Over the years the Opera Company of Boston has earned a reputation as one of the finest opera companies in the world and has been able to attract international opera stars, including Beverly Sills who made her operatic stage debut under Miss Caldwell in Norma by Bellini. The company has produced over fifty-five operas ranging from such standard repertoire as La Boheme, The Magic Flute, and Otello to world premieres including Middleton's American opera Command Performance.

Miss Caldwell believes that opera is a kind of "mass entertainment" and that "once in a while, when everything goes right, there is a moment of magic." She has been seen orchestrating her "magic" with clenched fists instead of a baton. In November, 1978, Miss Caldwell and the Opera Company of Boston inaugurated their new home, the former Savoy Theater, with Tosca by Puccini.

LEO GROSS, professor emeritus of international law at Tufts University's Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, is being awarded an honorary doctorate of laws.

Having earned his law degree in the late 1920s at Harvard Law School, and having served as chief of the League of Nations International Institute of Intellectual Cooperation in Paris for five years, Professor Gross came to The Fletcher School in 1941 as a lecturer. He was appointed professor of international law in 1944.

Professor Gross is considered the foremost voice on the subject of international law and has served as consultant to the United Nations and the United States Department of State, as well as advisor to countless government leaders and organizations. He has held visiting professorships at institutions around the world.

Born in Austria-Hungary, Professor Gross's association with The Fletcher School over the past forty years has earned him the highest esteem from his colleagues and students, both as a teacher and as a role model. A student of the Vienna School of Pure Theory of Positive Law, Professor Gross's respect for the integrity of the law as it "is" rather than as it "ought to be" has distinguished him as a senior scholar among positivists. He is the author of numerous books and articles ranging from an award-winning examination of the International Court of Justice to many works on the United Nations and analyses of particular international disputes, terrorism, and family planning as a legal right.

ALBERT IMLAH, Tufts University professor emeritus of English and American history and professor emeritus of diplomatic history at Tufts University's Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, is being awarded an honorary doctorate of letters.

Professor Imlah came to Tufts in the summer of 1926 to teach one course for one week as a favor to a friend. One year later he joined the faculty as an instructor; in 1935 he was appointed professor of history; and in 1944, professor of diplomatic history at The Fletcher School. Professor Imlah was named Dickson Professor of English and American History and chairman of the history department in 1957, serving in the latter position until 1965. Retiring from teaching in 1970, Professor Imlah was awarded emeritus status. He witnessed many changes at Tufts during his forty-four-year tenure on the Hill, most startling of which was climbing enrollment: from 1,125 students in 1926 to 3,600 students in 1970.

A graduate of the University of British Columbia (he was born in Canada), Professor Imlah earned his master's degree at Clark University and, in 1931, his doctorate from Harvard. He was a favorite teacher among undergraduate and graduate students; he sought to heighten intellectual curiosity, and challenged colleagues and administration to meet the ever-increasing demand for quality teaching.

Professor Imlah is a prolific writer, authoring two books and numerous articles. He was a member of the American Historical Association, the Conference on British Studies, and the Foreign Policy Association.

YOUSUF KARSH, internationally renowned portrait photographer acclaimed for “transforming human faces into legends,” is being awarded an honorary doctorate of fine arts.

Born in Armenia, Mr. Karsh came to Canada in 1924, having spent his childhood living under the horrors of the Armenian massacres. His apprenticeship in Boston to John H. Garo, the most eminent portrait photographer of his day, strengthened his desire to photograph those personalities who have left their mark on our era.

Mr. Karsh’s 1941 wartime portrait of Sir Winston Churchill, which symbolized the strength of the British people and first appeared in the pages of Life magazine, catapulted him into international fame. The most widely reproduced photograph in the history of photography, the portrait has been used on the postage stamps of twelve countries, including Britain, the United States, and Canada.

Popes and presidents, scientists and musicians, statesmen and international celebrities have appeared before the Karsh lens during the past forty years. His poignant portraits of Muscular Dystrophy Association poster children over the years are especially meaningful to him and, in 1971, he was awarded the Presidential Citation for his meritorious service on behalf of the handicapped.

Mr. Karsh has been decorated with many honors including eleven honorary degrees from colleges in the United States and Canada. His work is on permanent display in galleries, museums, and libraries around the world, including Tokyo, London, New York, and Boston. He has written or collaborated by illustration on thirteen books, publishing his autobiography In Search of Greatness in 1962. According to Mr. Karsh, “The heart and the mind are the true lens of the camera.”

EDMUND PELLEGRINO, president of the Catholic University of America, is being awarded an honorary doctorate of science.

A physician, scholar, and educational pioneer, Dr. Pellegrino was the founding president of Yale-New Haven Medical Center and professor of medicine at Yale University before being inaugurated, in 1978, the twelfth president (and second lay president) of the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Pellegrino is distinguished as a formidable expert on the subject of medicine and its relationship to values and ethics. The founding editor of The Journal of Medicine and Philosophy, he served as president of the Society for Health and Human Values. His latest book Toward a Philosophical Basis of Medical Practice was recently published and is already considered among the quintessential treatises on the subject of medicine and philosophy.

A graduate of Saint John's University in Brooklyn and New York University Medical School, Dr. Pellegrino has extensive experience in many areas of the medical field: from supervising physician in a tuberculosis hospital in suburban New York and chief of medicine in a hospital in rural Alabama, to pioneering administrator having founded, in 1966, the Health Sciences Center at the State University of New York in Stony Brook.

Dr. Pellegrino has been decorated with many honors including twenty-one honorary degrees and has served as a trustee of many universities around the country. He is chairman of the Task Force on Ethics of the National Board of Medical Examiners, is listed among Who's Who in America, and was recently elected the first chairman of the newly formed Conference on Catholic Medical Schools of the International Federation of Catholic Universities.

ONE BUILDING, FOUR PROFESSORS, SEVEN STUDENTS . . .

Random notes about Tufts and Its Commencement Exercises

Tufts College opened its doors in 1854 under the modest but courageous leadership of Hosea Ballou 2d. Hesitant as to his fitness for the presidency, he wrote to his brother Levi: "But I shut my eyes to the consequences, and rush forward . . . I am in for it, and if I come out ground to powder, I hope it will bring the price of flour down."

The distinguished Ballou and his successors wrought well, however, for Tufts College has grown from its original complement of "one building, four professors, seven students" into a university with full-time faculty and administrative staff of over 1,500 and a student body of 6,700. The climax of the academic year has traditionally been a public Commencement, which for many years was scheduled for the second Wednesday in July. The first Commencement at which degrees were conferred took place on July 8, 1857, when three candidates were graduated. In those days students were assigned Commencement parts in accordance with their class rank, and appropriate addresses were delivered in Latin. Until 1879, the degree candidates were listed alphabetically. Until 1875, the morning Commencement exercises were followed by a formal program in the afternoon under the auspices of the leading undergraduate literary and debating club. In 1875, the afternoon program was conducted by the Association of Alumni and marked their increasing interest in the affairs of their Alma Mater. Printed circulars of the first Commencement were sent to all Universalist pastors to read to their congregations and special notice was given that ladies were invited to all of the festivities.

Since that auspicious day in July, 1857, Tufts has conferred 54,097 earned degrees. The Medical School was opened in 1893, and the first graduating class consisted of twenty-two students, including eight women. Since then, it has conferred 8,432 degrees.

The Boston Dental College was incorporated into Tufts in 1899, and all graduates after this union received the Doctorate of Dental Medicine from Tufts instead of the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery. Thus, Tufts became one of only three dental schools in the United States to award the D.M.D.

instead of the D.D.S. as the degree for general practitioners of dentistry. The Tufts University School of Dental Medicine has conferred 6,939 degrees.

The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy opened its doors in 1933 to twenty-one students, all college or university graduates. In 1935, fourteen students received the Master of Arts degree and at the same Commencement the first Master of Arts in Law and Diplomacy was awarded. Since 1935, The Fletcher School has conferred 2,352 Master of Arts degrees, 828 Master of Arts in Law and Diplomacy degrees, and 326 Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

The Commencement Exercises

Today the Tufts Commencement exercises open with an academic procession which brings all participants to the Mall between Ballou Hall, where the first Commencement was held, and the University Bookstore. Candidates for degrees march first in the procession, followed by members of the faculty, in order of seniority. Members of the administration, deans, trustees, and honorary degree recipients are ushered in by the Marshal of the 25-year Reunion

Class of 1956, George D. Guzzi, Jr., to seats on the platform. Dr. John W. Zarker, the Presenter, carrying the official mace, leads the final marcher, President Mayer.

Academic Regalia

Traditional academic regalia has been worn by the Tufts faculty since the Commencement of 1906. The gown for the Bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves and is designed to be worn closed. The Master's gown has elbow-length, pointed sleeves; the Doctor's gown has bell-shaped sleeves; both may be worn open or closed. The Doctor's gown is faced and the sleeves are trimmed with velvet.

By its color and its arrangement, the hood worn with the gown indicates the wearer's highest advanced degree, the field in which it was awarded, and the school from which it came. The lining of the hood carries the school's colors, brown and blue in the case of Tufts. The velvet edging on the hood, wider for the Doctor's degree than for the Master's degree, signifies by its color the field in which the degree was designated. Master of Science and Doctor of Science hoods are trimmed in yellow; Engineers in orange; Medicine in green; Dental Medicine in lilac, and Doctor of Philosophy in blue. The mortarboard or Oxford-type cap is the one usually worn, but of late, the soft cap which resembles an over-large beret has come into favor because of its comfort. Tassels, other than the universally accepted black, may indicate by the various colors the field of learning in which the degree is earned, while the gold tassel generally signifies a doctoral degree. Many foreign universities show great diversity following traditions which extend back for centuries.
